"Like leaves on trees, the race of man is found,
Now green in youth, now with'ring on the ground;
The foll'wing spring another race supplies,
They rise successive and successive fall;
So generations in their course decay,
So flourish these, when those are passed away."

ABSTRACT OF LAND GRANTS.

(Taken from the Secretary of State's office, Raleigh, N. C., for Shaftsbury Precinct, Chowan Precinct, and Chowan County.)

John Varnham. Book I, page 143; 250 acres land, on River Albemarle, near what is now known as Skinner's Point, formerly Moseley's Point. Issued November 27, 1679. By reference to the "Colonial Records," Vol. I, page 253, it will be found that this grant is a reissue of one granted by William Berkeley, Governor of Virginia, 25th September, 1663. It calls for the same boundaries, same number of acres of land, and calls for the mile's end of Roger Williams' land. While this is the oldest grant that has been found, there were beyond question settlers on the north side of Albemarle Sound prior to its issue, and verifies the statement of Bancroft that this section was settled as early as 1658.

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT.

J. R. B. Hathaway, Editor and Financial Agent, Edenton, N. C.

With this issue of The North Carolina Historical and Genealogical Register, we enter upon a comparatively new and undeveloped field of journalism, in North Carolina.

To write history accurately, under the most favorable circumstances is a very difficult task, rendered much more so when those who made it, have all passed from the stage of action to the silent cities of the dead. We may repair to the cemeteries and pressing close to the portals of the tomb, ears acutely tuned to catch the faintest whisper that falls from human lips, ask the sleepers there, who they are? Whence they came? What they did? But alas! the oppressive silence is broken only by the echo of our words, wafted back by the wind, as it sings through the waving grass and rustling leaves a requiem for the repose of those who sleep beneath. We must turn to what has been written to learn their history, sad but true it is, here we find that fire social convulsions moth and rust, the destructive agents of time, have in many instances done well their work, and left illegible the records our ancestors recorded with their own hands, and attested with their seals.

Time is a remorseless iconoclast. The most sacred idols are ruthlessly broken in his flight, and the tenderest ties severed by his stroke. He rules with stern decrees and an iron hand; sooner or later all things earthly must yield to his sceptre. The flower blooms but to wither at his touch, the sturdy oak in conscious strength spreads forth its branches, only to be riven by his fiery bolt, or wrecked by the fierceness of his blast. Man is born but to die, and the epitaph of human life may be written in a few brief words, first the cradle then the grave, with a short space between, seldom barren, often filled with weeds and thorns, sometimes laden with luscious fruits and golden grain. Character alone defies his keenest blade, and laughs in triumph as the centuries march to their inevitable doom, for when all the monuments of human greatness shall have faded into oblivion, yea, when the granite hills and the firmly-rooted mountains shall have waxed old, and melted upon the funeral pyre of time, character adorned with all that is pure and good, will rise Phœnixlike from his ashes to grasp immortal honors, that will shine with increasing lustre while the cycles of eternity roll their successive rounds.

It will be our province to glean from the public records of the eastern counties of North Carolina, as well as from those of the adjoining counties of Virginia, the history of those, who severed the ties of friendship, blood and home, in the old world to brave the perils of the deep and greater perils of the wilderness, to lay the foundations of a social fabric, that has become the pride of every North Carolinian, and the admiration of her sister States, in the great constellation which forms the American Union.

To the rude log houses scattered here and there on the banks of the watercourses along the Atlantic seaboard, may be traced not only the genealogy of the State, but that also of the Republic. In the rebellion against unjust taxation and oppressive laws, shortly after the establishment of the Colony in North Carolina, were sown the seed which fruited in 1776, in the successful struggle for liberty and independence, out of which sprang the Republic full panoplied, ready to take her place among the nations of the earth. From a narrow strip of land on the Atlantic Ocean, it has developed into a vast empire, extending from where perpetual winter locks all nature in its icy embrace to where perennial spring infuses its genial breath into bursting bud and opening flower; from where the first rays of morning light gild the towering spires of our eastern cities, to where the evening shadows fall upon the golden gates of the far-distant west, whose varying climate and rich domain invite the oppressed of every nation, to come and dwell, where bounteous harvests reward the toil of the diligent, and labor finds a competency for the "winter of old age," and above all, where all the blessings of "Civil and Religious Liberty" can be enjoyed, abridged only in social enjoyments by laws designed to elevate to a higher plane and destiny her citizens.

We shall tell of the birth of their children, the marriage of their sons and daughters, the successes and distinctions they achieved in life, silently cover with the mantle of charity their faults, and speak reverently and respectfully of the fall of the curtain in the last act of the drama of life, remembering that the foundations of our present civilization so well and solidly laid, is and will ever continue to be the credit of those who laid them, while posterity can alone claim the credit for the improvement and development of the rich legacy they bequeathed.

The solid sturdy characters of those, who wrought well in life will be elevated to inspire with a laudable ambition, the youth of the State, to emulate their virtues and write upon history a name that will go down to the latest period of time. The foundation of character is laid in the early years of life, by careful pruning and by constant and diligent cultivation. The shattered dreams of youth, the ruined hopes of manhood and blasted fortunes of maturer age, left in the wake of time in his onward sweep, like gruesome wrecks, warn of neglected opportunities and a failure to improve the moments as they swiftly fly.

We place the inspiration before the youth of the country, to burn its way deep into their minds and hearts and shoot through every nerve and fibre of their being, a flame of intense and earnest desire to achieve that success in life commensurate with the opportunities and possibilities by which they are surrounded, and present to the world a solid substantial manhood reflecting credit upon their sires and themselves, and leaving a heritage to posterity more to be desired than great riches.

With these words of introduction, we cast upon the tide of time the fruits of our labor, to be borne by its current to the homes of a generous public, upon whose appreciation we confidently rely for a patronage sufficiently liberal, to make a success of the work we have undertaken.

Fortitude is perhaps one of life's most useful lessons, certainly one of the most difficult to learn. It is taught so beautifully and impressively by the ferns as they bloom in the glens and dells of the forest, their leaves are brightest when the wind blows coldest, and where the shadows fall the thickest. Fortitude is an essential constituent in the development of a vigorous, sturdy manhood.

A correspondent is in quest of a copy of the MSS. records of John Hill's Family Bible. He lived and died in Bertie County, 1762. Was the father of Hon. Whitmell Hill. We will thank any of our readers for information as to the present ownership of the Bible, and the person's address.

We are also requested to advertise for the records of the Southwest Parish, later known as St. Thomas Parish, in Bertie, the records antedate 1722 and probably extend to 1840 or 1850. If they can be found, they will be very valuable in writing up the personal history of Bertie County, and throw much light upon the history of families that can be obtained from no other source. We hope our readers will institute an enquiry that will lead to their recovery. A large number of our subscribers are directly interested in these records.

"Like leaves on trees, the race of man is found,
Now green in youth, now with'ring on the ground;
The foll'wing spring another race supplies,
They rise successive and successive fall;
So generations in their course decay,
So flourish these, when those are passed away."

NORTH CAROLINA—CHOWAN COUNTY.

Know all men by these presents, that we, James Wallace and James Craven, all of the County and Province aforesaid, are held and firmly bound unto our Sovereign Lord the King, in the penal sum of Five Hundred Pounds, to the which payment well and truly to be made we bind ourselves, our heirs, Exrs., Admrs., and assigns, jointly and severally firmly by these presents. THE FIRST CHURCH BUILT IN NORTH CAROLINA AND ITS LOCATION, ETC.

Lossing, in his "Field Book of the Revolution," states that the first church erected in North Carolina was located in Chowan County in 1705. While he is in error as to the date, he is correct as to its location. (Vol. —, page —.)

Tradition has placed the first church on the site of St. Paul's Church, in the town of Edenton, N. C., and we regret that the tradition is not verified, by the evidence taken from the records, as given in this sketch. The writer takes no pleasure in destroying, but would rather confirm them.

"At the organization of the first Vestry of St. Paul's Parish at the house of Thomas Gillam, Dec. 12, 1701," in obedience to an Act of Assembly made Nov. the 12th, 1701, appointing a Vestry for this Precinct consisting of Hon. Henderson Walker, Col. Thomas Pollock, William Duckinfield, Nicholas Crisp, Edward Smithwick, John Blount, James Long, Nathaniel Chevin, William Banberry, Col, William Wilkinson, Capt. Thomas Leuten, Capt. Thomas Blount, present, it being debated where a church should be built, Mr. Edward Smithwick undertakes to give one acre of land upon his old plantation, and to give a conveyance for the same to the Church Wardens hereafter appointed for the use and service of the precinct, to build a church upon, and for no other use, and to acknowledge the same in open court." (Col. Rec., vol. I, page 543.)

"It is appointed that Col. William Wilkinson and Capt. Thos. Leuten shall be Church Wardens for the following year, who shall agree with a workman for building a Church 25 ft. long, Posts in the ground and held to the Collar Beams, and to find all manner of Iron work, viz., Nails and Locks, &c,, with full power to contract and agree with the said workman, as to their direction, shall seem meet and convenient." (Col. Rec., vol. I, page 543.)

"Ordered, that the Church Wardens aforesaid having agreed with the workman for the building of a church as aforesaid, whatsoever charge shall accrue for and towards the building of the aforesaid church, or any other charge relating to the same (although not here particularly mentioned) by the said Church Wardens be levied by the pole upon the Tythables of the Precinct, the Church Wardens first endeavoring to raise the said money by contribution, and in case of failure to raise it by the pole as aforesaid, to agree with a Collector or Collectors to receive the same with power to destrain in case of Refusal." (Col. Records, vol. I, pages 543 and 544.)

The next evidence we introduce is a deed from "Edward Smithwick to Thomas Luten and William Wilkinson, Church Wardens of ye Precinct of Chowan, in North Carolina." "Seventy yards square of land for to build and arect a church, and the church to stand in the middle of said land, for the use of said Parish, forever, the said land to be on the road or the highway from Thomas Gylliam's in the woods, joining on the old field of the said Edward Smithwick. April 7, 1702. Test, Thomas Luten, Register." (Book W, page 30, Register of Deeds' Office of Chowan County.)

"At a vestry held at Thomas Gilliam's, Oct. 13, 1702, Present, Hon. Henderson Walker, President, Col. Wm. Wilkinson, Capt. Thomas Luten, Church Wardens, Nicholas Crisp, John Blount, Capt. Thomas Blount, Edward Smithwick, Wm. Banbury.

"To building the Chapel to Mr. John Porter 25£, the list of Tythables in the Precinct being taken is found to be 283." (Col. Rec., vol. I, pages 558–9.)

"Ordered, that the vestry meet to-morrow morning to view the Chappel."

"Oct. ye 14th, 1702. The vestry being met and having viewed the Chappel, the major part of the vestry do declare their dislike of the ceiling of the Chappel, by reason of the Boards being defaced." (Col. Rec., vol. I, page 576)

Ordered, that Mr. Edward Smithwick and Mr. Nicholas Crisp, on behalf of the vestry, do choose one indifferent man that is skilled in building, and Mr. John Porter shall choose another, who shall meet at the Chapel the second Saturday in November to give their "judgment whether the boards be fit for ceiling such a house, and if these two persons chosen as aforesaid cannot agree in their opinions, then they shall choose an umpire, and what opinion he the said umpire shall give shall be a full and final determination of the matter about the ceiling and boards, and the agreement between the Church Wardens and Mr. John Porter shall be thence." (Col. Rec., vol. I, pages 558–9 and 560.)

"At a vestry holden at the house of Mrs. Sarah Gilliam ye 15th day of December, 1702. Present, Col. Wm. Wilkinson, Capt. Thos. Leuten, Church Wardens, Mr. Wm. Duckinfield, Mr. Edward Smithwick, Mr. Nicholas Crisp, Capt. Thomas Blount, Mr. William Banbury, Mr. Nath'l Chevin, Mr. James Long." (Col. Rec., vol. I, pages 576–7.)

"The Chappel being this day viewed by all the vestry here present, and are satisfied therewith and do receive the House and Keys from Mr. John Porter, he promising to provide so much Lime as will wash the ceiling of the Chapel, and the Vestry to be at the charge of a workman to do the same." (Col. Rec., vol. I, pages 560–1.)

"At a vestry holden at the Chappel ye 6th Oct., 1703. Present, Hon. Henderson Walker, Mr. Wm. Duckinfield, Mr. Edward Smithwick, Col. Wm. Wilkinson, Church Wardens, Capt. Thos. Blount, Capt. Thomas Leuten, Mr. John Blount, Mr. Nicholas Crisp, Mr. Wm. Banbury, Mr. Nath'l Chevin." (Col. Rec., vol. I, pages 576–7.)

Ordered, that the Church Wardens shall, with all possible speed, have the windows of the Chappell finished, and that Glass may be sent for or purchased here if possible." (Col. Rec., vol. I, page 571.)

"At a vestry met at the Chapel the 9th day of March, 1703–4. Present, Hon. Henderson Walker, Col. Wm. Wilkinson, Mr. Wm. Duckinfield, Mr. Edward Smithwick, Mr. Nicholas Crisp, Mr. John Blount, Mr. Wm. Banbury, Mr. Nath'l Chevin." (Col. Rec., vol. I, pages 576–7.)

"Ordered, that the Church Wardens do speedily agree with a workman to make pulpit and pew for the Reader with Desk fitting for the same, and in as decent manner as may be, and what they agree for the vestry do oblige themselves to see paid. And that they put a former order in execution for the getting the windows put up, and to get Glass and have it put in forthwith." (Col. Rec., vol. I, pages 596–7.)

"At a vestry at the Chappell ye 3d day of Janry., 1705–6. Present, Col. Wm. Wilkinson, Capt. Thomas Luten, John Ardern, Esq., Wm. Duckinfield, Esq., Capt. Thomas Blount, Mr. John Blount, Mr. James Long, Mr. Edward Smithwick, Mr. Nath'l Chevin, Mr. Wm. Banbury."

"Also debated the Payment of John Dicks for work about the pulpit, the said work not being finished, whether he should be paid before the work be done, He alledging that he could not finish it for want of Nails and Boards, and he brings an acct. for his work six pounds."

"Ordered, that John Dicks be paid one pound, seventeen shillings, nine pence, besides what he has been paid, and that he finish the work, then account with the Vestry." (Col. Rec., vol. I, pages 629 and 630)

"At a Vestry at the Chappell the 18 day of April, 1708. Present, Wm. Duckinfield, Mr. John Ardern, Capt. Thomas Luten, Mr. Nicholas Crisp, Jno. Blount, Esq., Mr. Edward Smithwick, Mr. Wm. Banbury, Mr. Nath'l Chevin."

"Ordered, that Phillis Dicks, widow of John Dicks, be paid by the publick the sum of two pounds, besides what he hath been allowed and paid by the public for his work on the Chapel. (Idem, p. 679.)

"At a Vestry met at the Chapel on Tuesday, May 11, 1708. Present, Wm. Duckinfield, Esq., Edward Moseley, Esq., Mr. Edward Smithwick, Capt. Thos. Luten, Mr. Nicholas Crisp, Mr. Wm. Banbury, Mr. Thomas Garrett, John Ardern, Esq., Mr. John Blount."

"It having this day been debated for the better encouragement of a minister (for this precinct only) which is the most proper place to purchase for a Glebe, it's unanimously agreed upon that the plantation now belonging to Mr. Frederick Jones, whereon the church now stands, is the fittest place can be thought on for that use: the tract of land in quantity containing five hundred acres.

"It is therefore the humble Request of the Vestry that Edward Moseley, Esq., (having now business into Virginia) will please to treat with Mr. Frederick Jones concerning the purchase of the said land and agree with him for the same, provided he exceed not an hundred pounds in country commodities.

"Ordered, that the Church Wardens endeavor to have the pulpit finished with all possible speed, as likewise the Desk, and what other things belong to it, as likewise to have the Church floor laid with Brick, but upon further debate of the matter it's agreed upon that the floor shall be laid with plank as being the cheapest and most expeditious way of having it done." (Col. Rec., vol. 1, pages 680–1.)

The italics, "whereon the church now stands," in the above quotation are ours; they are not in the original as italics, but written as the balance of the paragraph.

From the above evidence taken from the records, we have the church commenced upon the land of Edward Smithwick in 1702 and received by the Vestry Dec. 15, 1702; it was, however, not completed as late as 1708, when it still required a floor, at which time we find the plantation upon which it was built had changed from the possession of Edward Smithwick to that of Fred'k Jones, who seems from the record to have been in Virginia at the time; he had probably just purchased it, and afterwards removed to it. In order to locate the exact tract of land "whereon the Church now stands" in 1708, we propose to introduce the original grant to Edward Smithwick and the deeds on record in the office of the Register of Deeds for Chowan County, and trace the title to the present date. Grant to Edward Smithwich (recorded in Book I, page 308, Secretary of State's Office, Raleigh, N. C.) reads as follows:

380 acres lying on southeast side of Mattacomack Creek, "Beginning at a red oak at the mouth of said creek, then down the bay of the said creek various courses to a red oak, an old marked corner tree; then east 6½° north 300 poles to a white oak; then north 3½° east 147 poles to an old marked hickory by the creek side; then down the creek by various courses to first station. Jany. 1, 1694."

Smithwick's deed calls for the acre of land (given the Church Wardens upon which to "arect a church") to be upon the road leading from Thomas Gilliam's house in the woods, and here follows the grant made to Thos. Gilliam Apl. 16, 1697, (recorded in Book I, page 76, Office of the Secretary of State, Raleigh, N. C.) for 560 acres land:

"Beginning at a red oak standing by the River, then N. 84° E. 300 poles to a Gum, S. 36° E. 170 poles to a white oak, south 45° W. 320 poles to red oak standing on the Bank of the River, then up the River by various courses to first station."

This tract of land lies back of the Smithwick grant, and was sold by Thos. Gilliam to Edward Smithwick in 1702, and by Smithwick to Jeremiah Vail, and corresponds to what is now called Cherry's Point, formerly Collins' Point. The deed from Thomas Gilliam to Edward Smithwick cannot be found on the records, but the following deed from Edward Smithwick and wife Sarah to Jeremiah Vail, dated July 2, 1709, (recorded in Book B, No. 1, page 367,) conveys "a tract of land containing 560 acres, which was formerly granted by the Lords Proprietors to Thomas Gilliam as by ye Patent dated Apl. 17, 1697." Then follows the same description as found in Grant to Thomas Gilliam above. The last call speaks of the line dividing it from land of Edward Moseley.

The deed from Edward Smithwick to Frederick Jones is also not to be found on the records, but a deed from Thos. Jones and Harding Jones of New Hanover Co., N. C., to John Rieussett, dated Julye 11, 1757, (recorded in Book H, No. 1, page 274,) conveys " 388 acres land more or less (except one-eighth part of an acre of the aforesaid land, including in the middle or centre thereof the burying place or graves of the Ancestors or Family of the said Thomas and Harding Jones) situated, lying and being near Edenton, in Chowan County, on the opposite side of Queen Ann's formerly called Mattacomack Creek, beginning at a Red Oak at the mouth of the said creek, running thence down the bay of said creek by various courses of the said bay to a red oak, an old marked corner tree; thence E. 6½° N. 300 poles to a white oak; thence N. 3½° E. 147 poles to a marked hickory by the said creek side; thence bounded down by the various courses of the said creek to the first station; and also 163 acres more or less situated, lying and being on the south side of the SE branch of Queen Ann's formerly called Mattacomack Creek in Chowan County, and adjoining the 388 acres of land above mentioned, Beginning at a Red Oak on the northeast side of the said branch, the corner tree of the land formerly belonging to one Windley and lately to Capt. Nicholas Crisp, dec'd, running thence thro' the said branch SW 40 poles to a white oak; thence south 147 poles in the line that divides this from the land first above mentioned to a white oak; thence S 30° E 170 poles; thence ENE 130 poles to the line of the aforesaid Nicholas Crisp, formerly called Windley's line; thence bounded down by the said line NW 276 poles to the first station. Which said lands were granted by Patent from the late Lords Proprietors of Carolina, to Edward Smithwick, dated in the year 1694, and were sold and conveyed by the said Smithwick to Frederick Jones, father of the said Thomas and grandfather of the said Harding Jones, and by the last Will and Testament of the said Fred'k Jones, bearing date 1722, were devised to his son Wm. Harding Jones, and by the said William Harding Jones by his will, dated in 1730, were vested after the death of his wife Ann now deceased, in the said Thomas Jones and Frederick Jones brother of the said Thomas, and to whom the said Harding Jones is heir-at-law, containing in the whole 543 acres of land." 380 acres and 163 acres make 543 acres. The 380 acres tallies with the Smithwick grant.

Deed of David Rieusset of Jamaica by John Harvey and John Campbell, attys. to Samuel Johnston, dated Oct. 30, 1765, (recorded in Book M, No. 1, page 307.) conveys " All that plantation in Chowan County near Edenton, N. C. 543 acres whereon John Rieusset, late of the Province of N. Carolina, did lately dwell, being all those two tracts of land which the said John Rieusset purchased of Thomas and Harding Jones, deed being dated June 18, 1757, and the said John Rieusset by his last Will and Testament, dated 8th July, 1763, bequeathed and devised to his brother David Rieusset. See John Rieusset's will (recorded in Book A, pages 162, 3, 4, and 5, Office Clerk of the Sup. Court of Chowan County) in which he says, "I do bequeath and devise to my said dear brother David Rieusset my plantation called Hayse with the appurtenances lying and being in Chowan County, containing by the Patents and Deeds 543 acres." Will bears date 18 July, 1763. This is the first time we find the tract called "Hayse." Gov. Samuel Johnston Deed of Gift, to his son James Cathcart Johnston, deed dated Dec. 9, 1814 (recorded in Book G, No. 2, page 101), conveys "All my plantation in Chowan County known by the name of Hayes with all the lands and appurtenances thereto belonging."

Will of James C. Johnston dated Apl. 10, 1863 (recorded in Book D, pages 57, 58, 59, 60, 61 and 62), conveys as follows: "I give, devise and bequeath to my friend Mr. Edward Wood, resident of Chowan County and State of North Carolina, all my Estate both Real and Personal of what nature or kind soever, that I have in the county of Chowan at the time of my death."

Will of Edward Wood dated June 3, 1872, and recorded in Book E, pages 33 to 41 inclusive, Office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Chowan County, contains the following bequest: "My Hayes farm with mills attached. I give to wife Caroline M. Wood during her lifetime, with all the Furniture, Library, Riding Vehicles, &c., stock, farming implements, &c., upon the same, and at her death to my son John Wood, his heirs and assigns, and desire them to keep and preserve the farm in good order, and keep it in my family as long as possible, in respect to the memory of him who gave it to me."

From a careful review of the facts produced from the records of both Church and State in this article, the conclusion is inevitable, that the first church built in North Carolina was located on the 380 acre grant of Edward Smithwick, dated in 1694, the title to which has been traced down to the present, when it appears as a part of the Hayes Farm now owned by Jno. G. Wood, Esq. The exact spot where it stood on this tract of land is not known, and will probably never be ascertained. A presumption, however, arises from the nature of the Grant to Smithwick, and from the fact that in 1702 the bulk of the population of this part of Chowan Precinct lived on the road leading from the Yoppim road to Sandy Point or contiguous to it, that the church was built upon or near the said road leading to Sandy Point. The Smithwick Grant was nearly due east from the Bay 300 poles, not quite one mile, which is about the distance from the bay to said road. Henderson Walker, Nicholas Crisp, Edward Smithwick, John Blount, William Banbury, Col. Wm. Wilkinson and Thomas Leuten, seven of the eight members of the 1st Vestry who lived on this side of the Albemarle Sound and Chowan River lived on the aforesaid road, or contiguous to it. Henderson Walker lived in 1702 at Skinner's Point, Nicholas Crisp lived on land adjoining Smithwick's, Edward Smithwick resided near the church on the same tract on which it was built, John Blount owned Mulberry Hill, William Banbury was living at Atholl, later known as Benbury Hall, Col. Wm. Wilkinson resided at Sandy Point, and Thomas Leuten owned land adjoining Wm. Wilkinson. The other vestryman, Nath'l Chevin, in all probability lived on his one hundred acre farm which now constitutes a part of the town of Edenton Thomas Pollock resided in what is now Bertie County, as did William Duckinfield at Salmon Creek, while James Long and Thomas Blount were residents of the South Shore, known as Tyrrell and Washington Counties at present.

The land on which the town of Edenton was built was owned by three or four persons, and there were no settlements on the north or east immediately adjoining its present boundaries, as early as 1702, there were two or three families on the west across Filbyrd's Creek, (named for Nicholas Filbyrd).

"At a meeting of the Vestry holden at the Chapel on Sunday the 25th July, 1708. Present, Edward Moseley, Esq., William Duckinfield, Esq., Capt. Thomas Luton, Mr. Nicholas Crisp, Mr. Edward Smithwick, Mr. William Banbury, Mr. William Charlton, John Ardern, Esq.

"Whereas, it had been taken into our mature consideration, the many and great inconveniences which attend the Chappell which is already built, both in respect of its ill situation, smallness and rough and unfit workmanship,

"We therefore to show our true zeal for the Glory of God and propagating so good a work, do unanimously agree that a church of forty feet long, and twenty-four wide, fourteen feet from tenent to tenent for hight, the remaining part of the work to be proportionable: the roof to be first plankt, and then shingled with good cypress shingles, and the whole to be ceiled with plank, and floored with plank, for the speedy accomplishment of which said work it's the Earnest Request of the present members of the Vestry that Edward Moseley, Esq., and Capt. Thomas Leuten will undertake to see the same performed, they living convenient, and to agree with Workmen at as easy Rates as may be. It being well and substantially performed." (Col. Rec., vol. I, page 684.)

At a vestry held at the Chapell on Thursday, 27th, Feby. 1708–9, we find only the following items referring to the church: "Ordered, that the Collector of Precinct advance the sum of twelve pounds towards the beautifying of the Chappell over and above the charge of the collection. Ordered, that the way and method of beautifying the Church be left to the discretion of the Church Wardens for the year ensuing, viz., enlarging, repairing, &c." (Italics ours.)

An item in the account of the Church Wardens presented at this meeting reads as follows: "By 500 feet of Inch board by Mr. Smithwick towards laying the floor, 2£. 10s. 0d." (Col. Rec., vol. I, page 702.)

From the above excerpts of records, it appears that the plank for the floor in the church had been purchased, and that the proposition to build another church, gave place to "beautifying the church by enlarging, repairing, &c.," presumptively the first building erected. If another church was built prior to 1730 in a different locality, after diligent search no deed has been found for the land on which it was erected. The records of deeds are silent on this point. This forces us to the conclusion that the first church may have been enlarged and repaired. There was no incorporated town in the Precinct, except Bath, until 1712, at which time the Legislature passed an Act "to build a Court House and House to hold the Assembly in, and for such persons as were minded to do so to build in the forks of Queen Ann's Creek, the place taking the name of "Queen Ann's Town," and retaining it until 1722, when an Act was passed to "incorporate the Town of Edenton," in honor of Gov. Charles Eden. The first lot sold at "Queen Ann's Town," was conveyed by Nath'l Chevin to Charles Foster, Sept. 1, 1715, probably one-half acre, known as Lot A, taken out of his one hundred acre farm which he owned on Queen Anne's Creek. Later Nath'l Chevin and Thomas Peterson conveyed to Edward Moseley Lots 1 and 2 at Queen Anne's Town. There is no evidence among the records that there was any church in Queen Anne's Town or Edenton, or other place of Public Worship, up to Mch. 31, 1729, but there is evidence to show there was none about that date.

Col. Wm. Byrd of the surveying party on the part of Virginia to run the "Boundary Line" between Virginia and North Carolina visited Edenton March 29, 1729, and in his Manuscripts, vol. I, page 59, states: "I believe this is the only Metropolis in the Christian or Mohamatan World, where there is neither Church, Chapel, Mosque, Synagogue or other Place of Publick Worship of any Sect or Religion." Again, in the same volume, page 63: "Our Chaplain returned to us in the evening from Edenton in company with the Carolina Commissioners. He had preacht there in the Court House for the want of a consecrated place, and made no less than 19 of Father Hennepin's Christians."

The following extracts from the records will, however, clearly show that the first church was in all probability not enlarged, nor was there a new and larger one built on its site or elsewhere prior to 1729. Of course I do not refer to the church that was constructed in that part of Chowan Precinct now within the lines of Gates County, of which we will find a record later on, to-wit, "Sarum Chapel."

Rev. John Urmston was the Missionary in charge of the work in Chowan and other Precincts. In a letter from him, dated July 7, 1711, making a report of his work, we find the following language: "We had neither Church nor Chapel in 3 of the Precincts, and those two we have in Chowan and Perquimans were never finished—ready to drop down; that in the former Precinct hath neither floor nor seats, only a few loose benches upon the sand, the key being lost the door has stood open ever since I came into the country. All the Hoggs and Cattle flee thither for shelter in the summer and warmth in the winter; they first dig holes and bury themselves, then with the rest make it a loathsome place," &c. (Col. Rec., vol. I, pages 769–70)

The expression in the above extract, "only a few loose benches on the sand," seems to indicate that the church was located on the *shore of the bay, as sand can only be found upon the Smithwick tract at or near the water. However, as this may be, it could have been hauled from the shore to the church and placed within it to make the dirt floor more comfortable. Rev. Mr. Adams had left Chowan and gone to Coratuck in 1709, at which time he was succeeded by Rev. John Urmston.

Mr. Adams writes to the Secretary, his letter being dated in London May 13, 1709, as follows, speaking of the Precincts: "Chowan is the westernmost, the largest and thinnest settled. They built a Church some years ago, but it is small, very sorrily put together, and is ill looked after; and therefore I prevailed with them to build another, which they went about when I came away. The plan of it I brought over, and was desired to procure as much glass as will be necessary for the windows, which by computation will amount to 325 feet." (Col. Rec., vol. I, pages 711–12)

At a meeting of the vestry held the 1st June, 1711–12. "Ordered, that Mr. John Urmston be allowed for officiating in this precinct, the year following commencing from the 25th Dec. last past, at the several times and places hereafter mentioned, seventy pounds to be levied and paid as the Act of Assembly for establishing a Church and making provision for Ministers doth appoint and direct, dated Mch. ye 10, 1710–11, viz., One Sunday on the south shore, then the two next on the western shore alternately." (Col. Rec., vol. I, pages 830–1.)

Letter from Rev. John Urmston to John Chamberlain, dated on Board the Bayly, James River, May 30, 1712: "I intend to come for England God willing pr. the next fleet. The country owes me 100£ already, and the longer I stay the worse it will be." (Idem, page 851,)

In a letter from Rev. Giles Rainford to John Chamberlain, dated Chowan in North Carolina, July 25, 1712, the following language appears: "June the 5th I arrived at the Governor's, where I was most kindly received by him, as afterwards by Col. Pollock and Mr. Duckinfield. * * * * Whit Sunday * * * * several of the people came that day to Public Service, but perfect strangers to the Method of Worship of our Church. Mr. Urmston and I by a mutual agreement, with the approbation of the Governor, are to manage after this manner. He proposes to supply the North Shore at the lower end of Chowan, together with all Paspetanck, provided I take care of the West Shore (where there is no church). But since the whole country is entitled to my labors, I visited his shore (which I am sorry to say) has been a long time neglected. Mr. Urmston is lame and says he cannot do now what he formerly has done, but this lazy distemper has seized him by what I hear ever since his coming to the country. * * * * There's a small Chapel near an old Indian Town where I preached at June 5th, had vast crowds come to hear me, but I observed they exprest very little or rather no devotion in time of Divine Service. June 22d I preached at one Mr. Garratt's, the upper end of Chowan, but had such numbers that I was obliged to go under a large Mulberry Tree. * * * I had several conferences with one Thomas Hoyle, King of the Chowan Indians, who seem very inclinable to embrace Christianity and proposes to send his son to School to Sarum to have him taught to read and write by way of foundation in order to a further proficiency for the reception of Christianity. I readily offered my service to instruct him myself, and having the opportunity of sending him to Mr. Garrett's, where I lodge, being but three miles distance from this Town. I found he had some notions of Noah's flood, which he came to the knowledge of and exprest himself after this manner: My father told me I tell my son. There's one Mr. Mashburn who keeps a school at *Sarum on the fronteers of Virginia between the two Governments and neighboring upon 2 Indian Towns." (Col. Rec., Vol. I, 858–9.)

*If this had been a Baptist Church, it is reasonable to presume it would have been located "at or near the water."

Letter of John Urmstom to the Secretary, dated Nov. 6, 1712, says: "Mr. Rainsford has proved another Alexander. His coming in has been a great detriment to me, and no service to the Country. I wish he may stay in it as long as I've done, but very much doubt it; never any one could do it, and had I been able should have long ago taken me to another place." (Col. Rec., Vol. I, page 888.)

Now, in all these letters there has not been one word written with reference to the Church or Chapel, nor have we found in the records of the Vestry Meeting for past two years any allusion to building or repairing. Rev. John Urmstom speaks of the Chapel being "ready to drop down, and a resting place for Hoggs and Cattle; they flee thither for shelter in the Summer and Warmth in Winter." Mr. Rainsford's letter to the Secretary, dated Chowan, N. Carolina, 17 Feby., 1712–13: "Mr. Urmstom has bought a plantation on the confines of Virginia." (Idem, Vol. II, page 17.)

Rev. John Urmstom to General Nichelson, North Carolina, July 1st, 1713–4: "This is now the time of payment, whilst people have it.

*Sarum was in all probability located at or near the "Ballard place," about 3 miles Northwest of Gatesville at the head of "Sarum Creek." It was three miles from Thos. Garrett's on Catharine Creek to Thos. Hoyle's Indian Town, located on their grant for 11,000 acres of land lying between Catharine Creek and Bennett's Creek, making it about 5 or 6 miles distant from the present Town of Gatesville, N. C. The other Indian Town referred to as being convenient to the School at Sarum was most probably that of the Meherrin Indians at or near the mouth of the Meherrin River. Sarum being located at the head of Sarum Creek was about equidistant between the two towns. On a recent visit to Gatesville, in conversation with an old gentleman 83 years old, he stated, that when a boy there were evidences at or near the Ballard place of a very old settlement."

Vestries have been summoned, but to avoid payment would not meet, and thus they have served me ever since I came among them, so that I fear I must retire into the next Government for relief."

At a Vestry met at the Church on the North shore of the Sound in Chowan Precinct Mch. ye 2d, 1713–14. Answer to a letter from the Honoble Society by the Honoble Coll. Nicholson were ordered: "None of them ever abode so long here as Rev. Mr. Urmstone hath done. Yet have not been so happy in him neither as we would have desired, by reason that for the most part there hath been no other Minister in these parts. Since his arrival * * * he hath made the other precincts sharers with us in his ministry. As for the two years last past he hath been prevailed with, and indeed necessitated, not being able to travel any longer about the country to confine himself to this precinct, * * * pray the Honoble Society to continue or rather add to the Salary of Mr. Urmston to the End he may be enabled to stay with us; that they will out of their great Charity concur with our honest but weak Endeavors to establish a Church, Ministry and a School." (Idem, Vol. II, pages 119 and 120)

John Urmstone's letter to the Secretary. Extract: "North Carolina, Nov. 13, 1716. There was a Vestry appointed for Chowan where I have resided for six years and a half, several essays have been made towards a meeting, but there were a majority, at least we had eight, whereof two refused to qualify themselves as the Act which I sent the Society directs, and nowe they pretend without a new Act there is no Vestry, all to avoid paying me, hoping by that means to drive me out of the Country." (Idem, vol. I, page 248.)

* John Urmston to the Secretary. North Carolina, May 1, 1717. 'My Parochial account is very short * * * I went this winter 7 times to the church in the neighborhood (i. e. that is 4 miles distance), and met not a congregation; so indifferent are our Gentry in their Religion they had rather never come to church than be obliged to pay me anything; they can not endure the thought of it." (Col. Rec., vol. II, page 279).

John Urmstone to the Secretary. Extract: North Carolina, June 22, 1717. "It was agreed that we should hold a Vestry every first Sunday in the month, but we have never since the first nor I believe ever shall; the first Sunday in the month we had one Church Warden and three Vestrymen." (Idem, page 288.)

In his letter dated Oct 23, 1717, he speaks of Rev. Mr. Taylor arriving here about a month ago (page 294), after which time Mr. Urmston commenced his labors in the lower precincts.

We have given the statements of Rev. John Urmston, fully aware that his reputation in the Colony to say the least was very unsavory;

* Rev. John Urmston owned 400 acres of land on the Albemarle Sound, either covering a part of Athol! water front, or on the tract immediately west of it. He gave Edward Moseley a power of attorney in 1720, shortly after he left the Precinct, to dispose of it. This paper is indexed, but on referring to the book and page, we fail to find it recorded.

his statements when corroborated by other evidence are worthy of credence and others relating to minor details, where there could be no motive or interest to prevaricate, must likewise be received. We nevertheless leave the reader to attach that weight to his evidence the facts and circumstances may justify. The trend of all the record evidence is to the Edward Smithwick grant of 380 acres, as being the place upon which was erected the first church in N. Carolina. We can not see how a doubt of this fact can linger in the mind of any person, after a careful and thoughtful investigation of the evidence collected in this sketch. A second church (while the records are not in accord with the thought), may have been commenced, but we can find nothing to indicate that it was ever completed or used.

St. Paul's Church in Edenton, N. C., was commenced after 1729, but it is not now our purpose to give its history. We may do so at a later date.

There is no date to this paper, found among the Court records of Chowan County at Edenton, N. C., but it was evidently executed prior to 1716, as John Byrd, one of the signers, was dead at that time. This oath was required of all officers upon their qualification to office. It remained a law until the Convention of 1835, when, through the efforts and influence of Hon. William Gaston, it was abrogated. There are three words in the oath that cannot be deciphered.

LITTLEJOHN FAMILY.

Copied from a family circle, made by Maj. Roger Pleasants Atkinson, of Greensboro, N. C., and added to by his niece, Miss Mary Sumner Kingsbury, of Wilmington, N. C. (to whom we are indebted for its possession and use).

William Littlejohn emigrated from Inverness, Scotland, before 1760, and settled in Edenton, Chowan Co., N. C., where he was a shipping merchant for forty years. He married November 21, 1771, Sarah Blount, daughter of Joseph Blount and Sarah Durant (d. of *Geo. Durant and Hagar Crisp, d. of Capt. Nicholas Crisp and —— Wilkins). He died March 4, 1817, from injuries received by his horse running away and throwing him from his chaise; aged 77 years. His wife, Sarah Blount, was born Feby. 14, 1747, and died Oct. 10, 1807. They were members of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Edenton, and are both buried in the family graveyard of the Blounts and Littlejohns on Cheshire's Hill, near the depot of the

* NOTE BY THE EDITOR.—George Durant, born Oct. 1, 1632, married, Jany. 4, 1658-9, Ann Marwood of Northumberland Co., Va., died in 1694; had issue, among others, John Durant, born Dec. 26, 1662, married April 9, 1684, Sarah Jooke, daughter of Thomas and Ann Jooke.

John Durant died Jany. 5th, 1699. Mrs. Sarah Durant married, second, William Stephens, who died in 1702, leaving Thos. Gilliam as his executor. Mrs. Stephens died in 1717. No issue by her last marriage so far as ascertained. Issue of John Durant and Sarah Jooke, among others, George Durant, born April, 1685, died 1730; married about 1713, Hagar Crisp, born 1698, died 1724, daughter of Nicholas Crisp and —— Wilkins. Issue, (1) Ann Durant, born July 18, 1714, married, first, Joseph Buncombe (uncle of Col. Edward Buncombe), who died leaving one daughter—Mary Buncombe married —— Sutton. Mrs. Ann Buncombe nee Durant, married, second, Thomas Corprew. Issue, (a) George Durant Corprew, (b) Thomas Corprew. She died in 1747, and Thomas Corprew married, second, Sarah Vail. (2) Mary Durant, born 1718, died 1746, married Christian Reed, her twin sister. (3) Sarah Durant married Joseph Blount I, born 1716 (son of John Blount and Elizabeth Davis, daughter of John and Mary Davis and granddaughter of John Burton, of Henrico Co., Va). John Blount, born 1669, was the son of Jas. Blount and wife, Ann; Jas. Blount died in 1685-6. (4) Elizabeth Durant, born March 12, 1720, married Joseph Reed, brother of Christian, both sons of Gov. Wm. Reed. (5) Geo. Durant, born Aug. 23d, 1723, was living in 1730, at the time of his father's death. As no record of him appears in the division of his father's estate, it is presumed he died in his minority. Sarah Durant, who married Joseph Blount I, died in 1751, leaving only one child, Sarah Blount, who married William Littlejohn. Joseph Blount I married, second, Mrs. Elizabeth Scarborough, widow of McRora Scarborough. At the time of her marriage to Scarborough she was the widow of Wm. Reed, with one son, William Reed. (William Reed was the brother of Christian and Joseph mentioned in this note). McRora Scarborough's will executed January 21, 1751, probated February 18, 1752, mentions the following persons: Wife Elizabeth, Mr. William Reed, her former husband, son Benjamin, land given me by Mrs. Juliana Laker (his great-grandmother), son MacRora, son William, daughter Elizabeth, cousin Mary Atkinson; wife, sons Benjamin and McRora and William Exrs. Loving brother, John Scarborough, my brother-in-law Edward Hatch, and Wm. Burgess, Sr. Test, Walter Kippen, Joshua Hobart, Cornelius Mullen, Rachel Avery, Martha Ann Kippen.

From the above we infer his wife was the sister of Edward Hatch, son of Anthony Hatch, who married a Durant.

Thomas Blount Littlejohn, eldest son of William Littlejohn and Sarah Blount, born at Edenton, N. C., Dec. 9, 1773, but went to Granville Co., N. C., when a young man, where he married Elizabeth Mutter (dau. of Thomas Mutter, a Scotchman, and Elizabeth Moore) on Thursday evening, Dec. 6, 1798, Rev. Henry Pattillo performing the ceremony. Thomas Mutter and his wife Elizabeth Moore had four children. (1) Thomas Mutter, father of Dr. Thomas Mutter, of Philadelphia, (2) John Mutter, father of Mrs. Fannie Macon, of Richmond, Va., (3) Margaret Mutter, wife of John Bonner Blount and (4) Elizabeth Mutter, wife of Thomas B. Littlejohn. Thomas Mutter died ——, and his wife, Elizabeth Moore, married, 2nd, George Alston, also a Scotchman, and she was known among her descendants as "Grandma Alston." She died at an advanced age about 1840 at her home in Granville Co., where she is buried. Her granddaughter, Margaret Littlejohn, inherited a handsome Miniature of her (which is now owned by a daughter of Maj. Roger P. Atkinson, of Greensboro, N. C.), and a valuable breastpin worn by her (which is now in the possession of Mrs. Theodore B. Kingsbury).

Thomas Blount Littlejohn was in business with his father at Edenton before he moved to Granville Co. He afterwards lived at Oxford, N. C., where he merchandised and farmed for many years, and in his old age was "Clerk and Master in Equity."

The land whereon Oxford, Granville Co, now stands, was formerly the property of Mr. —— Mitchell and others, and was purchased of them by Pannele some years before the Court House was located there. In 1805 Thomas B. Littlejohn, Esq., purchased of Pannele, for the sum of $1,500, the tract of land, but refused to allow a town to be laid out on it or to sell any of the property. Much dissatisfaction grew up in the county at this monopoly; people had no shelter or other accommodation while attending court, and petitions were circulated in the county to remove the Court House from Oxford. To prevent this, Mr. Littlejohn consented to sell 50 acres for a town. Accordingly, in 1811, an Act was passed by the General Assembly of North Carolina appointing Col. Robert Burton, Benj. Hilliard, Col. Charles Eaton, Dr. John Hare, and Robert Jeter Commissioners to purchase 50 acres of land from Mr. Littlejohn and sell it off in lots. This was accordingly done, but no corporate government was established until 1816. In that year an Act to incorporate the town of Oxford, in Granville Co., was passed, and William M. Snead, Nathaniel M. Taylor, Dr. William V. Taylor, Leslie Gilliam, and Thomas Blount Littlejohn were appointed Commissioners. They were our first "City Fathers," and were empowered to fill any vacancy that might, from any cause, occur in their body. The corporation seems to have become dormant, for in 1825 an Act was passed relieving the Corporation, and naming Thos. Blount Littlejohn, Thomas Booth, Dr. William V. Taylor, David Mitchell, and Rhodes N. Herndon Commissioners, and providing for the election of Commissioners on the first Monday in May of each year. Again the Corporation died out, but was revived in 1830, and has existed uninterruptedly ever since. In 1832 and 1844 Acts were passed amending the "Acts of incorporation."

Thomas Blount Littlejohn remained in Oxford until he was nearly eighty years old, when he went to live with his youngest daughter, Mrs. Geo. Field, at her home "Glenwood," in Warren Co., N. C., where he died Jan 29, 1854, in his 81st year, and was buried at Oxford, N. C., in the family graveyard by the side of his wife, Elizabeth Mutter, who died Feby. 19, 1842, in her 44th year.

For forty years he was an earnest and devoted member of the Presbyterian Church. Whilst those who knew him in life's summer prime could tell many things illustrative of his humanity and firmness, and punctiliousness, and Christian integrity, and inflexible honesty, yet the present writer would simply say that a better man he never knew, one whose strict observance of the nicest proprieties of society was more invariably scrupulous and characteristic of the gentleman, or in whose daily life were more clearly exemplified the shining attributes and rich virtues which cluster so thickly around the character of the Christian. As might have been anticipated from so pure a life, his end was glorious and peaceful—serene and resigned and quiet as the setting of an unclouded sun. Mr. Littlejohn appeared to them who only knew him in the last days of his life, when the machinery had been well worn by the service of eighty years, as a man of strong and marked character, a character so vigorously drawn and developed that no portrayal could possibly present him correctly or accurately unless the lineaments were drawn by the cordial and genial hand of an Ancient friend who knew him when his form was erect, athletic, and his eye beamed with the undimmed lustre of a healthful and active manhood. He who now writes only speaks of him as he appeared in his declining years. Some two years and a half before his death he left Oxford, his place of residence for sixty years, to spend the evening of his life in Warren Co., where the fondness of a daughter could minister to his comfort. So gentle and serene was his death, it seemed like the sinking of a summer breeze on the sweet music of a falling quiet stream.

Thomas Blount Littlejohn and Elizabeth Mutter had 12 children.

(1) Sallie B., b. Sept. 16, 1799, md. Shepard Kollock, and died July 26, 1828.

(2) Thomas Mutter, b. July 24, 1801, and died in 1867, in Louisiana, unmarried.

(3) William, b. Feb. 8, 1803, md. Mrs. Jane P. Patrick, and died Jan. 10, 1850.

W. BURGESS.

The above item is copied literally from the original found in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pasquotank County. The date is erased, but by the aid of a glass it was found to be Sept. 5th, 1729.

The house of Wm. Burgess was "on the North side of Pascotanc, at the head of Ramond's Creek." This place corresponds to Shiloh in Camden County, Camden County having been formed out of territory formerly embraced in Pasquotank Precinct and County. If any of our readers could designate the house and land of William Burgess in 1729, the exact location could be ascertained where this first Congregation was organized and where they worshipped.

Letter of Joshua Lamb, of Roxbury, Mass., to the Hon. Governor of N. Carolina: "On the 21st of November I saw a letter from your Honour, sent to Col. Paige, wherein you were pleased to acquaint him, that our title to Roanoke Island was questioned and that no record could be found of my father's purchasing of it. I thought meet therefore by the first opportunity to acquaint your Honour that my father bought the island of Sir William Berkeley * one of the Proprietors of Carolina, and then Governor of Virginia, on ye 17 of April, 1676, which deed was recorded Dec. 20, 1676, by Paul Latham Clk and was also recorded in our records in Boston. So that our title is legal and substantial. My father sold one half of ye Island to Col. Page, and a quarter to Mr. Pardridge, and ye other quarter still remains in my hands. I intreat your Honour to be so favorable to us, that all needless trouble and charge to us may be prevented. I purpose ere long to dispose of what part is yet at my dispose to one of the Inhabitants of Carolina, being at such a distance that I can't have any advantage by it.

I am Your Honour's
Most humble servant,

Roxbury, Mass., Dec. 5, 1704. JOSHUA LAMB.

To the Hon. Robert Daniel, Esq., Governor of North Carolina.

Nicholas Paige, of Boston, writes the Hon. Governor Sept. 20, 1764, as follows: "I have received yours of the 23d Aug't for which I give you hearty thanks for your kindness in advising me of my interest in Roanoke Island. The Island was ye Gov. Stephens, he dying left it to his wife. Sir William Berkeley then Governor of Virginia, married ye widow and hee and his Lady sold ye Island to Mr. Joshua Lamb, father to this Capt. Lamb, and ye one-half which I now own was bought of Mr. Joshua Lamb and soo hold it from him. It cost near three hundred pounds. * * * * Your humble servant to command. NICHOLAS PAIGE.

To His Excellency
Robert Daniel, now Governor of N. C.

* Sir William Berkeley married the widow of Gov. Stephens, who died in 1669. he succeeded William Drummond as Governor, who went to Virginia in 1667, and later engaged in Bacon's rebellion, and was summarily executed by Gov. Berkeley on the 16th day of May, 1679, being tried at 10 o'clock and executed at 4 o'clock the same day. All historians have spoken of Governor Drummond in terms of highest encomium, while a dark cloud hangs, and will ever hang, over the memory of Berkeley, for his brutal and inhuman execution of Drummond. Gov. Drummond left a widow, Sarah Drummond, one son, John, of whom we have no record, and a daughter, Sarah, who married Samuel Swann, born May 11, 1653. She dying, he married second, Elizabeth, daughter of Major Alex. Lillington and widow of Col. John Sandal. By this marriage Sarah Swann, wife of Frederick Jones and Elizabeth Swann, who married John Baptiste Ashe. The State has cause to be proud of the descendants of the Jones and Ashes, the pages of her history are filled with their deeds, as scholars, soldiers, statesmen and citizens. We are glad to know that the race is not extinct, and that there still lives worthy sons of these noble sires.

ALBEMARLE COUNTY, CHOWAN PRECINCT AND COUNTY.

Albemarle being the first settled, was the first organized county in Carolina. The date of its incorporation is not definitely known, probably by the Legislature which met in 1666. It existed as early as 1670, as clearly shown by the court records of that date—a copy of a minute docket of the Court of Albemarle county has already been published in No. 1 of The Register (see No. 1, page 135).

It was composed of the Precincts of Carteret, Berkeley and Shaftesbury, the first named covering the territory now occupied by the counties of Currituck, Pasquotank and Camden. The last named county was a part of Pasquotank until about the close of the Revolutionary war. Alligator, on the south side of the Albemarle Sound, was for a number of years a part of Pasquotank Precinct.

Berkeley Precinct included what is now known as Perquimans County and a small portion of Gates County lying contiguous to Perquimans, which was separated in 1779 and placed with other territory taken from Chowan County to form Gates County.

Shaftesbury later known as Chowan Precinct, embraced a large area of territory, corresponding to the present counties of Chowan, Gates, Hertford, Northampton, Bertie, Tyrrell, Washington and Martin. In 1722 Bertie was erected into a separate Precinct, taking all the territory west of the Chowan River under its jurisdiction, which extended as far as the Anglo-Saxon had penetrated the wilderness, felled the forests and turned to the sunlight the soil that had been hidden for so many centuries. It was also called the "West Shore" on account of its location on the west side of Chowan River. Northampton and Hertford counties were formed of territory originally part of Chowan, later of Bertie County—the former was incorporated in 1741, the latter in 1749. The Precinct of Tyrrell was set apart in 1729, taking the territory on the south side of the Albemarle Sound, and as far up the Morattuck (Roanoke) River as Rainbow Banks. It was called the "South Shore," as it was on the south side of the Albemarle Sound. The Morattuck River was the dividing line between the Precincts of Bertie and Tyrrell. After the loss of these two Precincts, Chowan retained only that portion of her territory, north of the Albemarle Sound and east of the Chowan River. Her boundaries continued intact until 1779, when Gates County was organized, including in her boundaries a small part of Perquimans, which was placed with that taken from Chowan. After all these divisions and subdivisions had been made, the boundaries of Chowan have remained the same to the present day, and are as follows: "Beginning at the mouth of the Yoppim River on Albemarle Sound, thence running up the middle of said River to its source, thence up the Mill Creek to Wilder's Mill, thence up the main channel of the mill pond and swamp to Hathaway's bridge on Bain's Road, then N. 17° W. 569 chains to a cypress at Caleb Goodwin's bridge on the Cattail Swamp, thence N. 4° W. 309 chains to the Crane Pond where it crosses the Sandy Ridge Road, thence along the Sandy Ridge Road by various courses 639 chains to Gates County line, thence along the Gates County line to Catherine Creek, thence down the middle of said creek to the Chowan River, then down said River to Albemarle Sound, thence down the said Sound to the first station. (See Map and Report of Commissioners in office Register of Deeds of Chowan County.)

Courts appear to have been held in Albemarle County as early as 1670, and possibly prior thereto. The earliest minute docket thus far found is dated in that year and has already been referred to above. The records of Albemarle County Courts are to be found in the Court House at Edenton in a fair state of preservation, and contain most of the early history of the Albemarle section of North Carolina. The Courts were held regularly, and in the absence of Court Houses, the private dwellings of her citizens were utilized for that purpose. No record of the existence of any Court House has been found earlier than 1718. This building seems to have been first used Nov 11, 1718 (Col. Rec., Vol. II, page 314), was located at Edenton, and was in existence in 1729. Tradition says that the present structure is the same as that used in 1718, but the records do not sustain the tradition, hence it must fall. Col. Wm. Byrd, of the surveying party on the part of Virginia to run the boundary line between that State and North Carolina, visited Edenton in March, 1729, and in his Reminiscences, Vol. I, page 59, speaks of the Court House, as having the appearance of a "common Tobacco Barn." This was evidently the wooden building first erected, and not the handsome "Brick Edifice" which now fronts Edenton Bay. Deeds are on record in the Register of Deeds office of this county from the Commissioners of Edenton to the Justices of the Peace of Chowan Precinct, dated in 1722, for lots Nos. 58 and 59, "old plan of the Town," upon which to erect a Court House; but as these lots were afterwards sold by the Commissioners to other parties in 1738, having lapsed for want of a building, we are forced to conclude that the wooden building stood on the same lot on which stands the present edifice of brick, with its stone floor and elegant panel work in the large room of the second story. The brick and material of which this building is composed, is said to have been brought directly from England—this is, however, tradition, and we have no record evidence to sustain it. The date of the erection of the second building has not yet been ascertained. We hope to find it among the records as we proceed with our work, and give it to our readers in a future number.

It is hard to realize, in this progressive age, the serious inconveniences, privations and hardships that environed the early settlers of Carolina, in every department of life. The country was sparsely settled, neighbors were frequently miles away. Without roads or public conveyances they were forced to make their journeys on foot or horseback along Indian paths or trails, with the savage and wild beast roaming at will the dense forests surrounding them on every side. The Port of Roanoke (Edenton) was the metropolis, and many of those having business, public or private, were compelled in many instances to travel thither as indicated above, from sixty to seventy-five miles, and frequently cross the Albemarle Sound in an "Indian Dugout," to reach their courts, or procure such articles as had been imported into the Colony, that were necessary for the maintenance of their families and promotive of their business. The processes of the Courts were executed by a Marshal, who had deputies living in different parts of the several precincts. Arrest and imprisonment for debt was frequent. Their communication the one with the other living at different points in the county was exceedingly difficult. There were no mail routes, and the pockets of the traveller constituted their only mail bags—uncertain, and often vexatious, as carelessness and forgetfulness caused frequently weeks of delay in receiving replies to letters conveyed in this manner. The same difficulty appears in passing the titles to real estate. Deeds were allowed to accumulate in a neighborhood until the number justified the appointment of some one person in the community armed with powers of attorney to repair to the nearest place of Probate, and have them properly probated and recorded, hence we find the same witnesses to perhaps six or eight instruments recorded at the same time.

Tobacco and pork, in the absence of money (which seems to have been but little used in business transactions), were the legal tenders of the country. The judgments of the Courts were given payable in so many pounds of either one or the other of these commodities. Imagine in this age a business man stopping to weigh tobacco or pork, receive the same and transport it to his place of business in exchange for other articles to be similarly transported by the purchasers. It would clog business to such an extent as to create chaos in the mercantile world, and almost drive the business men of our day to the Insane Asylum or suicide. Yet our ancestors managed to thrive and prosper under this system, and bore all their privations and inconveniences with cheerful spirits, looking only to the solid foundations they were laying upon which was to be reared by coming generations a social fabric destined to be the pride of every North Carolinian and the envy of the civilized world.

Marriages were frequent among the early settlers; the men married as soon as they reached manhood, and the girls at fourteen and fifteen years of age. It was unsafe for females to be left alone, on account of the country being filled with savages and wild beasts. A male protector was an absolute necessity for their safety. For this reason we frequently find widows marrying in a few weeks or months after the death of their husbands, their newly acquired mate joining with the widow in the administration upon her deceased husband's estate. In our age this would appear very hasty, and be considered in very bad taste; but circumstances in that day necessitated speedy marriages, and the gentlemen and ladies easily and gracefully adopted and appropriated the necessities of the occasion. We find many "much married persons" among the early settlers. We find ladies who had been married four and five times, and gentlemen who had been so unfortunate as to lose as many wives. Divorces were unknown; death alone dissolved the marriage tie.

Special care was taken of the orphans. They were reported to the proper authorities, who assigned them " to dwell until of mature age" with persons of good character, who were charged to teach them to read and write, and have a proper care for their physical and moral training. It has been a pleasure to the writer to take especial notice of the solicitous care and tender thoughtfulness of the authorities in this respect which runs all through the records of the Court in those early days. This duty has been taken from the authorities to a very large extent in the present age by the Orphan Asylums of North Carolina. They are doing a most excellent work in this department of Christian work, and should receive every consideration and support the people can command and extend. Take care of the children; the future of your State depends upon the characters they form in youth. The waif thrown carelessly upon the world without check or balance may in the years of manhood or womanhood bring upon a community a countless multitude of woes.

The only factor in facilitating the exchanges of the country were sail vessels. Steam had not been invented, and was yet some distance in the future. Many of the settlers were Mariners, who ploughed the briny deep for a support for their families, brought to their homes the products of the Isles of the Seas, and laid the continents under contribution for their comfort and welfare. Rum, molasses and slaves were the chief imports, while tobacco, pork, corn and the skins of wild animals constituted the chief items of export.

There were no institutions of learning—the home was the schoolhouse in which the children were trained and the mother was the teacher. Here they learned to read and write, were taught the duties of a housewife, and had correct principles instilled by a mother's "line upon line and precept upon precept," her own example being the model after which their characters were formed. It is a matter of no surprise, under such circumstances, that the men and women were of such robust, sturdy character. Such a people necessarily made their impress upon the coming generation, and they, in turn, upon the succeeding, until our present civilization has been evolved and become the monument that tells posterity of the achievements of the noble sons and daughters who first settled Carolina. There were but few churches, none prior to 1702, and but three as late as 1708. For the greater part of the time they were without shepherds to feed the flock; here and there services were infrequently held at private houses, yet they seem to have held to the faith of their fathers, and after awhile churches were built and ministers secured to officiate in them. It is wonderful how much was accomplished in the intellectual and moral training of the people under such adverse circumstances. We find running all through the early records a charming simplicity of honesty and morals that would be a credit to the present age, and looking back to the simplicity of life in those days and contrasting it with the conventionalities of society at the present, we are forced to conclude that there was more real, substantial happiness then than now; there was a freedom without license in their social intercourse that placed all visitors at perfect ease, made them feel welcome and at home in the rude unpretentious log-houses in which all dwelt, I imagine, far different from the strict adherence to style and etiquette we find in so many of the splendid homes of the present day.

Chowan County, as at present constituted, has about forty miles of water-front on the Chowan River and Albemarle Sound. Its sailing and fishing facilities are immense. The original settlers (the Indians) appropriated in the fullest measure their riparian rights. They lived upon the water and in the forest. These constituted his only smoke-houses, and as a result they had no use for money. No legislation was required as to ratios, whether it should be 16 to 1 or no ratio at all. Money never crossed his mind by day or disturbed his slumbers by night—so they had enough to satisfy the cravings of their appetites for the one day it was sufficient, the morrow took care of itself. They lived upon fish taken from the water and the game captured in the forest. The fishing advantages of this part of Eastern Carolina have been a large factor in supplying the people with food for their families and money to meet their demands. Many pages could be written upon this industry, but we must content ourselves with what has been written and simply add, as in the early times, so now a large part of our population are fed and clothed by the fish that are taken from Chowan River and Albemarle Sound.

Cotton, corn and peanuts are the chief staples of the soil, while shad, herring, perch, rock and sturgeon are the chief products of the water. The population of the county is about 11,000, about one-half of whom are negroes, former slaves of the whites.

Albemarle County was shortlived—about threescore years and ten marks the limit of its existence. In 1738 the Legislature passed an Act changing the names of the precincts to that of counties, and Albemarle County passed silently from the map of North Carolina. It served well the purposes of its creation, and will live in history as long as the State endures. All honor to its memory.

IT WILL require one thousand subscribers to make our Publication pay and enable us to give the public such a work as we desire. If our subscribers will interest themselves and run our subscription list to that number by the end of the year, we hope to give them something more to our taste, and at the same time reduce the subscription price. Until this is done we can not do more than make the Publication pay its way. We have subscribers in thirty States of the American Union, scattered from Fort Worth, Texas, to Concord, N. H., and as far West as San Francisco, Cal.

TWO MONTHS of grippe, and two months of the printer to get this publication out, has placed its appearance well behind. The first excuse will, we are sure, be satisfactory to those of our readers who have been so unfortunate as to have suffered in this way, and will be, to those who have never had the grippe, should they once suffer from it. For the second we can offer no excuse, except our misfortune.

WE THANK our many friends for their kind words in commendation of THE REGISTER, as well as the substantial aid we have received from them in the way of subscriptions.

THE NEXT issue will contain an article from the Historian of the North Carolina Society of Colonial Dames, at Wilmington, N. C. We have extended them a space in each issue of our publication, in order that the members of the Society may keep informed of the transactions of this most excellent Society. We hope it may prove mutually beneficial in increasing their numbers, and also adding to the number of our subscribers.

WE WILL publish in our next a list of the periodicals and books we have received, with short reviews of each.

Lady in Atlanta, Ga., wishes the following query inserted. She desires the descendants of Daniel Tucker, one of the first Governors of Virginia. They originally settled near Norfolk, coming from the Bermuda Islands. William Tucker married Christian Raiford; they had grandsons in the Revolutionary War. They appear in South Carolina. Phillip Raiford, Justice of the Peace of Craven County in 1758. He was the father of Sarah, who married Genl. John Pearson, of Fairfield. In 1751, he was Lieutenant in Captain Fairchild's Rangers, and his brother William a private.

Isaac Raiford died in Columbia, S. C., in 1815, nearly a hundred years old. One of his daughters married ——— Kesler, another the celebrated Moses Kirkland, and yet another (Mary) married Capt. John Pearson, father of Genl. John Pearson above. Mathew Raiford, of North Carolina, will executed in 1752, mentions children Mathew, Mary, Ann, Rebecca, Philip, Robert, William, Grace and Drucilla. This Phillip was probably the same of South Carolina, and Robert, Captain (brevet Major) 8 N. C. Continental Line, member of the Order of the Cincinnati. Phillip Raiford was member of House of Burgesses of North Carolina in 1779. John Raiford was an officer in North Carolina Continental Line. Phillip Raiford, of Cumberland County, N. C., married Jane Armstrong. Her father was a native of Bath, England. They had but one son, Robert, father of Col. Phillip, and Sarah married ——— Eve. Robert married Henrietta Newby, of Cumberland County, N. C. Phillip the elder was paymaster under Genl. Nathl. Greene. Alexander Raiford was the only brother of Phillip. They had four or five sisters, who married Robertson, Pickett, Terry and De Jarnette. Their descendants moved to Virginia and Alabama. Morris Raiford had brother Isaac, probably the Isaac who died in Columbia in 1815. Information wanted of the emigrant. Please give us all the light you can.

Query: William Cantrill came to Virginia in 1607 from England. Capt. John Smith locates the settlement of "Cantreel and Sicklemore betwixt Potomac and Rappahannock." The Virginia Historical Magazine gives Henry Cantreel in Charles City County in 1639. Can any one give any other information of either of the above, or their descendants? Tradition says John Cantreel was born in Rockingham County, N. C. (or that vicinity), moving into South Carolina before the Revolutionary War. He had twenty-one sons, six of whom were in the Revolutionary War from North Carolina—Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, John and Thomas. A Stephen Cantreel served in the same war from North Carolina, possibly another son or nephew. Jacob was my great-grandfather. He died in Orange County, N. C., in 1790. Tradition says Zebulon and Joseph Cantreel went into Virginia from Philadelphia, Penn., early in 1700, later into North Carolina. Was either of these brothers the ancestor of John? Any information of any of the above, or any of the name in Virginia or North Carolina, would be greatly appreciated by

"Like leaves on trees the race of man is found,
Now green in youth, now withering on the ground:
Another race the following Spring supplies;
They fall successive, and successive rise:
So generations in their course decay;
So flourish these when those are passed away.

NOTE.—Thomas and Ann Jacocks were the founders of the Jacocks family in North Carolina they left one son Jonathan I, who married about 1709. Mrs. Elizabeth Collins widow of William Collins of Paquotank. She died without issue in 1711 and Jonathan I married 2nd Mary Blount born 1696, eldest daughter of John Blount and wife Elizabeth Davis, (daughter of John and Mary Davis of Henrico Co., Va., and grand-daughter of John Burton of the same place.) they purchased land near Scotch Hill in Bertie Co., at the head of the Albemarle Sound, where they lived and died in 1735, their estates were administered on by John Blount, brother of Mrs. Mary Jacocks in 1735. From the division of the estate in 1739 the following appear as their issue. (1) Jonathan Jacocks II who married Elizabeth Hill (daughter of John Hill and wife Mrs. Martha Bate nee Whitmell, and sister of Hon. Whitmell Hill) (2) Charles Worth Jacocks married Anne West, who became the third wife of Simon Bryan, (3) Thomas Jacocks married 1st Rebecca Scolley of Boston. Issue Rebecca and Mary Jacocks whose descendants live in Massachusetts. Thomas Jacocks married 2nd Mrs. Elizabeth Reed, nee Durant, widow of Joseph Reed, and daughter of George Durant and wife Hager Crisp. No issue by the last marriage. (4) Joseph Jacocks of whom we have found record since 1739. (5) Elizabeth Jacocks last record of her we find among the Bertie Court items in 1747, when and where she appeared in Court being then 17 years old and chose Edward Bryan to be here guardian, Mrs. Bryan was her cousin, being a daughter of Thomas West and Martha Blount, sister of Jonathan Jacock's wife. She married in all probability shortly after this time. Can any of our readers tell us whom, or give us any items relating to the other members of the family, especially Joseph. Mrs. Hathaway, now at rest, the beloved and lamented wife of the Editor of the Register, was a descendant of this family, through Jonathan Jacocks II and wife Elizabeth Hill as mentioned above, hence our great desire for information of the family.

THE EVERARD RIOT IN EDENTON IN 1728.

(Taken from original papers on file among the Court Records of Albemarle County, in the Court House in Edenton, N. C.)

"Court of Oyer and Terminer held at Edenton July 30th, 1728. Christopher Gale Chief Justice, Thomas Lovick and Thomas Speight Assistants.

An Indictment against several persons for a riot.

Hon. Richard Everard declared upon oath, that on July 2nd, a riot was committed by the following persons in Edenton, viz: Maj. Joseph Jenoure, Thos. Betterly, Peter Osburn, Peter Young, Tom the tinker alias Cockran, Robert Robinson, Chas. Cornwall, James Roe, Richard Robins, two foreigners, a tall Irishman, a carpenter and divers others unknown, who came to the Governor's house in a riotous manner, whereupon the Governor commanded them to depart, but they refused & afterwards struck one of the Governor's Servants, and broke his head, whereupon it was considered and ordered that a warrant should issue & be directed to the Provost Marshall to apprehend the sayd persons and secure them so that they be & appear before this Court.

Richard Everard demanded a warrant against William Little, Esq., Attorney General for detaining, the Statutes at Large, and was informed by the Court, that a warrant could not be granted for anything of that value. Everard stated that he put the books in the hands of the Attorney General for the use of the Publick, and not for his private use. The Court engages thot they shall be returned to him again, so that the title thereto may be legally disputed, and accordingly the said books were returned to the said William Little on the 5th day of the Court.

Hon. Sir Richard Everard Bart, came into Court and charged several members of the Court with having tampered with the Grand Jury especially John Lovick, Esq., for having conversed with Mr. Francis Pugh, who was foreman of said Jury, whereupon the sayd Pugh & the rest of the Jury came into Court and desired leave to clear themselves, which was allowed, and then declared severally that no person whatsoever had ever tampered with them concerning any bills of indictment or Presentment made by them whilst they were on said Jury, being further interrogated, if they had received a paper form the said Everard, he Mr. Arthur Croxton acknowledged that he received a paper from Sir Richard Everard, Esq., at the window, whilst the Jury was upon business, but that the said Everard did not talk with him.

Ordered that the Marshall take the bodys of the parties mentioned in the Indictment and them so secure as to have them before the Court on Monday next as ordered for Tryal, adjourned to Monday 5th August, 1728.

On motion of Sir Richard Everard, Esq., a paper was delivered to the Court by John Lovick, Esq., which he sayd he had of Mr. Arthur Croxton and Croxton told him it was the paper, which Mr. Everard gave him when he was upon the Grand Jury, which paper is by the Court ordered to be filed.

This is all of the record that has thus far been found.

NORTH CAROLINA SOCIETY OF THE COLONIAL DAMES OF AMERICA.

The North Carolina Society of the Colonial Dames of America, was organized March 24th, 1894., and became an incorporated Society a month later. Societies of Colonial Dames had been formed in each of the thirteen Colonial States and the District of Columbia, with later on, Associate Societies in the non-Colonial States. The objects of these Societies, as Stated in Article II, of the Constitution of the National Society,which is of course, binding in all the State Societies,are "to collect and preserve manuscripts, traditions, relics and mementoes of by-gone days; to preserve and restore buildings connected with the early history of our country, to diffuse healthful and intelligent information concerning the past, to create a popular interest in our Colonial history, to stimulate a spirit of true patriotism and a genuine love of country, and to impress upon the young the sacred obligation of honoring the memory of those heroic ancestors whose ability, valor, sufferings and achievements are beyond all praise."

How has the North Carolina Society met these obligations? Almost immediately after its organization a "Reading Circle" was formed of its members which met one evening out of each fortnight for the study of Colonial History. Many valuable original papers were read to the Dames of these meetings, by the gifted gentlemen of Wilmington, notably, an "Address on Cape Fear History" by Capt. E. S. Martin, which embraced a sketch of the work of Cornelius Harnett, a Colonial and Revolutionary patriot of North Carolina, also a paper by Mr. W. B. McKoy, "History of Hilton," the home of Cornelius Harnett. Col. A. M. Waddell read a very valuable paper—"America before Columbus," and Major Graham Daves, an interesting and instructive one on the "Society of the Cincinnati."

The North Carolina Society had the honor of being the first to introduce to the public the exquisite historic poem entitled, "The White Doe" or, "The Indian Legend of Virginia Dare," its gifted author, Mrs. Robert Cotton, having at their request, recited this poem at an entertainment given by them in 1897. A type written copy of the valuable papers written by the late Dr. John Hill, on "Cape Fear Plantations and Proprietors" has been secured by this Society, as were also the valuable contributions to North Carolina history compiled by Mr. James Sprunt, and published in the Southport Leader. This gentleman read before the Society an original paper called "A Colonial Apparition" the incidents of which were verified by witnesses present at the reading. Many other papers were read but want of space forbids their notice. A course of reading was adopted on "The Times, Character and Work," of each of the Colonial Governors of North Carolina, and, the ably edited Colonial Records of the State have been read.

In April, 1898, during a meeting of the Biennial Council of the National Society, in Washington, D. C., War having been declared against Spain, a "National Relief Association," was formed by that body whose duties, as defined in the Resolution which gave it birth, were "to earnestly co-operate in all measures to provide necessaries and comforts for our Army and Navy, and for sufferers in any great disaster, and to alleviate the sufferings and anxieties of their families, and by every means in its power to promote a brave submission to the Will of our Heavenly Father, and the decrees of our temporal rulers." Branches of this Association were formed in each State Society. The above Resolution was laid before the President of the United States and the Surgeons General of the Army and Navy and received their cordial endorsement. In five minutes after the adoption of the Resotion, five hundred dollars cash was handed in to the Treasurer. The hospital ship "Solace" was fitted out from funds raised, and, at the meeting of the Biennial Council of Ap'l 1900,the reports of the Treasurer and Historian, showed that $56,000 had been contributed to the relief work by the State Societies through this Association. The Association is to be perpetual, and was originated by Mrs. Mason of Rhode Island, warmly assisted in its passage by Mrs. George W. Kidder, President of the North Carolina Society.

A commemorative entertainment was given in April, 1899, by the Society to celebrate the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the "First Public Library in North Carolina," at which appropriate historical papers were read by Mr. William Calder, and the Historian of the Society.

Having obtained the custody of the ruins of the Church of St. Philip on the Cape Fear River near Wilmington, the Committee appointed for the work, took charge of the property, and having, through published circulars sent out by the Historian, and also, by an entertainment given at the residence of the chairman of the Committee, Mrs. James Sprunt, raised the necessary means, they inaugurated the work of repair and restoration. Many monuments in the Church yard had been broken and the pieces scattered by cannon balls during the Civil War, this site having been fortified by the Confederates and called Fort Anderson. These monuments have all been repaired and the ravages of decay arrested in the walls of the church, which are three feet thick and twenty-four feet high, with eleven windows and three doors. The grounds have been cleared, and, largest work of all, a substantial wharf built. This last work was made possible by the generous contribution of lumber by Mrs. James Chadbourn, and Mr. George Kidder, and of piling and the use of his pile driver at a greatly reduced price, by Mr. James Sprunt. The Society also proposes to mark the many historic sites in the vicinity of St. Philip's Church, with commemorative tablets, the most noted of these being the scene of the armed resistance to the Stamp Act in 1765, by Cols. Hugh Waddell, and John Ashe, backed by friends and the militia of the counties of New Hanover and Brunswick, and the fortifications of Fort Anderson. The festival of St. Philip and St. James falling on May 1st the occasion, in 1900, was celebrated by a pic-nic to these grounds, where a religious service was held within the walls of the church and a most interesting historical paper, prepared by Mr. James Sprunt was read. In the grounds outside Capt. E. S. Martin delivered an eloquent address on the storming of Fort Anderson during the Civil War, he having been an officer on the staff of Gen. Hagood who commanded there at that time.

Several hundred dollars have been raised by this Society for the purpose of erecting a monument to Cornelius Harnett, and a handsome sum has been contributed to the Worth-Bagley Monument. Thus has the North Carolina Society, along with her Sister Societies, been fulfilling her mission. The "Register" of this Society has just been published, and will soon be in the hands of the public. This has been a great labor and those in charge of the work have felt their responsibility and have faithfully endeavored to meet it. The seal of the North Carolina Society of Colonial Dames was taken from the coat-of-arms of Sir Walter Raleigh the father of colonization in North Carolina.

Respectfully submitted,
EMMA MARTIN MAFFITT,
Historian of the North Carolina Society of the Colonial Dames of America.

BURTONS.

John Pleasant Burton emigrated to Indiana, there are now 1700 of them in and around the town of Mitchell, Indiana. They have a cemetery of their own, and hold family re-unions every summer. In their cemetery old John Pleasants Burton is buried in compliance with his own wish, in an erect position, because he said the "Burton's will hold their heads up." The writer of this record states, "My great grandfather Thomas Burton was a Rev' Soldier and must have died prior to 1828. He was a native of Virginia and married Miss Perrin. They lived some time in North Carolina (I think) then settled in Laurens District S. C. or Effingham, Ga. I have information of two of his sons Benjamin and Robert and the daughter who md ——— Ford. The Bullochs of Georgia.

This is perhaps the only family in America, whose name ends with an h instead of a k. There was a family in Scotland descendants from Donald Bulloch McDonald, a brother of Donald "Lord of the Isles." The Bullochs of Georgia are presumed to be of the same family. The first of the name in America was James Bulloch, a highly educated man, said to be a minister, he was born in Glascow, Scotland in 1701. We find him in Charleston, S. C., as early as 1729, where he appears as a merchant, but soon after a planter in Colleton Co., in 1741. A special agent to the Creeks until Great Seal and in 1754 member of S. C. Colonial Assembly, and in Oct., 1767 a Justice for Christ Church Parish in Ga. This eminent man was the father of Archibald Bulloch, President of Georgia in 1776--7. Few men were greater or occupied more prominent positions in the Country's history than he, who was speaker of the Royal Assembly, President Provisional Congress of Ga., President and Commander in Chief of Georgia, and Delegate to Continental Congress, and Signer of a paper of Secret Congress of 1775, wherein the delegates pledged themselves not to divulge anything which might take place in the Congress. He was virtually a "Signer of the Declaration of Independence," but official duties prevented his attendance to the Congress of 1776 to which he was elected. Was the first man to read the Declaration in Georgia to a large Audience. James Bulloch father of Archibald married Jane daughter of Rev. Archibald Stobo and had issue.

*QUERY BY THE EDITOR.—Would Gov. Roosevelt's relationship to Irvine Stephens Bullock entitle this distinguished gentleman and soldier to adoption, as a nephew, by the "Daughters of the Southern Confederacy"? Some of the very best Southern blood flows through his veins, and is said to [illegible] very "much thicker than water".

Barnaby McKinne's, Jr., will dated Oct. 13th, 1735–6, Probated Nov. Court 1736, mentions daughter Patience, Barnaby Lane (son of Joseph Lane) daughter Mary, Barnaby McKinne (son of William), wife Mary, brother William, Barnaby Pope (son of John), brothers Robert and John McKinne, James Howell, Cousin John Lane.

At the time this will was executed Cousin and nephew were synonymous, and were used interchangably, hence our inference that John Lane was his nephew the son of his sister Patience who married Joseph Lane, this view if correct would make Joseph Lane's wife Patience the daughter of Barnaby McKinne, Sr., it also appears from the above records that John Pope and Isaac Ricks married sisters of Patience Lane. A correspondent from Barnesville, Ga., writes us as follows:

The sons of Joseph and Patience Lane, were Joel Lane Col. in the

Rev. War, Jonathan, Joseph and Jesse. (The will of Barnabe McKinne, Jr., mentions other sons in the person of brothers William and Robert. Among the descendants of the sons were Charles and Richard Lane in the Rev. War, Gov. David Swain of N. C., Gov. Joseph E. Lane of Oregon, Gov. Henry Lane of Indiana, Gov. Alfred H. Colquitt of Georgia, Hon. Hector D. Lane, of Alabama, Dr. Ptuling Lane, Esq., of Tuskegee, Ala., Fletcher Leftwich Yarborough, Esq., of Opelika, Ala., Hon. James Nutting, Atlanta, Ga., John F. Yarborough, M. D., Columbia, Ala., Mrs. Eudosia Hill, LaGrange, Ga., Leftwich Philips, Esq., Opelika, Ala., Mrs. Judge Wm. Ezzard, Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Dr. Crawford Long, Athens, Ga., Mrs. Dr. O. M. Phillips, Esq., Opelika, Ala., Rev. Geo. Yarborough, D. D.,and Rev. T. R. Kendall, D. D., both of North Georgia Conference, M. E. Church South, Charles Leftwich Phillips, Esq., Elberton, Ga., Mrs. Lillie Yarborough Warren, Loachapoka, Ala., Mrs. Capt. Newell Milledgeville, Ga., &c. We learn from the same lady that Esther Bryan had two sisters in Georgia, (1) Mrs. Elizabeth Bryan Sasser Blackman, born 1751 died 1745 in her 95th year. (2) Mrs. Susanna Bryan Bush (wife of John Bush (brother of Col. Wm. Bush of Jones Co., N. C.,) who married Penelope Lane near 1750, who when a young widow md Needham Whitfield (son of Rachel Bryan). She was of the W. K. Lane family of Goldsboro, N. C., and George Lane family of Indiana, whether of the Lane family of Raleigh, N. C., I do not know. Esther Bryan had two brothers in Georgia, (1) Blake Bryan, (2) Arthur Bryan named for his uncle Arthur Smith 4th of Virginia, after whom Smithfield, Va., in 1752. Smithfield, N. C., was named for his brother John in 1760. Col. Wm. Bush's mother Catharine Franks (who belonged to the Swiss Colony that came with Baron De Graffenried, to N. C.) married when a young widow General James Blackshear, and had two Blackshear children; the Blackshears are prominent in Georgia; Esther Bryan (daughter of Wm. Bryan and Esther Smith) md her 1st Cousin Jonathan Smith, (son of Col. Sam Smith and Edith Whitfield); Rev. eral Joseph Lane ran for the Vice-Presidency in 1860 with Breckenridge. *

Rev. J. Bryan Williams also says. It is probable that the Joseph Williams who married Sarah Lane and moved to Athens, Ga., was the son of Col. Joseph Williams whose daughter Hester Williams md Wm. Whitfield 1763, (son of Rachel Bryan) John C. Wiliams, Sam Williams and Theophilus Williams all married Lanes; the last two moved to Alabama in 1835. They were the sons of Rachel Smith and Isaac Williams, Rachel was the daughter of Alex Smith and Elizabeth Whitfield, Alexander was brother to Col. Sam Smith and his wife was daughter of Rachel Bryan. Our lady correspondent also writes, that Col. Joel Lane the eldest son of Joseph and Patience Lane was a very wealthy and influential man, and the founder of Raleigh, N. C., a full Colonel in the Rev. War, and deeded the land to the Commissioners upon which the city of Raleigh, N. C., is built. He was a member of the Hillsboro Congress and first Provisional Congress. The Assembly met at his house, a large brick structure still standing. Col. Joel Lane married 1st Martha Hinton, 2nd Mary Hinton daughters of Col. John Hinton (son of John Hinton of Chowan) who lived near the present site of Gatesville, N. C., and died there in 1732; his will mentions sons Hardy, John, William and Malachi, daughter Ann Alston, wife Mary, children Mary, Judah, Rachel, Rose, Sarah and Charity) and wife Grizelle Kimbrough. C., is a descendant of Joel Hinton Lane and wife. Other records mention James Lane md Lydia Speight; he died in Wake County in 1805. Barnabas Lane with three children, (1) Martha, (2) Barnabas, (3) Jean; but these sons mortons, Smiths of "Shooter's Hall," and Willis will please communicate with me as soon as possible, as I desire to secure as complete a history of the descendants of Col. George Reade as possible and know that all the above families are connected by blood and marriage. Also information desired regarding Cornelius Robinson of N. C. (probably of Anson Co.); his wife was Elizabeth Pickett, presumably a sister of James Pickett of Anson Co., N. C. Wanted the line of ancestors on both the paternal and maternal sides of Cornelius Robinson and his wife Elizabeth Pickett, back to the time of their immigration to America. Please give also history of the Torrence family of N. C. Any information on the above points will greatly oblige.

Information desired regarding the descendants of Col. George Reade of Gloucester Co., Va. Any descendants of the Lewises, Washingtons, Rootes, Thorntons, Thompsons, Benj. Grymes, Cobbs, Throck-

WM. WIRT CLAYTON TORRENCE,
700 Piedmont Avenue Cor. 6th Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Information desired of the ancestors and descendants of Capt. John VanPelt, who came from New York to Bertie Co., N. C., and settled there about 1720. There were descendants who removed from Hertford County, N. C., to Texas about 30 or 40 years ago bearing the name VanPelt. John VanPelt had two sons Herman and VanSant, perhaps Capt. John's name may be missing from one of the New York families, if so would be pleased to know it and get the history of his ancestors. The Hertford County records were destroyed by fire some years ago,which prevents a following of the family in North Carolina, after Hertford County was formed out of Bertie. The first 20 or 25 year's history of the family is among the Bertie records;for later records we must rely upon those in the hands of his descendants. If Col. George Mitchell of Hertford County will write us giving a copy of such records as he has, it will be of great assistance in making up the record and place us under obligation for the favor and information.

Now green in youth, now withering on the ground:

They rise successive, and successive fall:
So generations in their course decay;
So flourish these when those are passed away

* Edward Buncombe was the nephew of Joseph Buncombe, and succeeded to his uncle's estate in Tyrrell Co. He was Colonel of the 5th Regiment of N. C. Continental Line; was severely wounded at the battle of Germantown, and died from the effects of his wounds shortly thereafter. The State of North Carolina owes her gallant son the tribute of a memorial to mark his last resting place; and while we are speaking of him we are reminded of an illustrious son of Pennsylvania, Hon. James Wilson, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence from the State of Pennsylvania, who sleeps in an unmarked grave in the private lot of the Johnstone family, at Hayes, about one-half mile from the town of Edenton, N. C His memory deserves better treatment. An appropriation of $1000 by the Pennsylvania Legislature would place over his remains a monument to commemorate his illustrious public services to the State and to the Republic. Is there not enough patriotism in the Legislature to prompt this testimonial? We think so, and believe they will no longer delay what should have been done years ago.

* Rev. James T. Pickett was Principal of the Edenton Academy from 1849 to 1854; the first five years of the school-life of the Editor of the Register was spent under his tutelage While Mr. Pickett was a strict disciplinarian yet he was kind and forbearing; being a close observer, every act of his pupils was carefully scrutinized; admonition and correction were administered only when duty required, always patient with those who were dull, and never failed to give credit and approbation when merited Many of the writers' happiest days were spent under his care at the "old Edenton Academy," they form a bright oasis in a life that has, in some respects, been a desert. We are glad to know that he is "still in the flesh on this side of the river." He is living near Morganton, N. C., (his Post Office address). We give his address, as there are a few of his scholars living who would probably be glad to cheer his heart, in the evening of his life, with a letter expressive of their affection and gratitude May he be spared, with all his faculties unimpaired, for many years to come. Men of his mold and stamp never cease to be useful in the world.

The 2nd William Whitfield and wife Rachel Bryan moved to the "Rich Lands" on the Neuse River in Lenoir Co., N. C., and lived at Rockford on the North bank of the river, he afterwards purchased White Hall now "Seven Springs" in Wayne county from Buckskin Williams (father of Gov. Ben and John Pugh Williams) and brother of Old Ben Williams. Buckskin Williams kept an Indian Store at White Hall until 1776. Soon after the battle of Moore's Creek bridge in March, William Whitfield moved to Pleasant Plains, three miles from White Hall, his sons Needham and William were in the battle of "Moore's Creek Bridge," Needham was the Clerk to Col. Casswell, who commanded the Whigs, William was a private in the Light Horse, he and his brother-in-law Daniel Williams, took prisoner General McDonald, Commander of the Tories; William and Needham Whitfield also took prisoner in the same battle Farquard Campbell. After the war was over Farquard Campbell married Elizabeth Smith widow of Alexander Smith and sister of the captors and by his wife Elizabeth Smith had three sons James, William and Robert. Robert Campbell married Flora

Rogers and had six sons and ten daughters, two of his sons Robert McGregor and John Campbell were captains in the Confederate Army. No braver man than Robert McGregor Campbell ever lived and none more gentle. Farquard Campbell came to North Carolina with Flora McDonald when a youth. At the battle of Moore's Creek Bridge the Tories were 4,000 strong and the whigs 1,000. Captains John Cobb, John Garland and George Miller were Captains of the "Minute Men" and in front of the battle.

William and Needham Whitfield were in Col. John Miller's Co., after the battle all was quiet, until Cornwallis came from Guilford Court House and went to Wilmington to recruit, thence he proceeded to Hurt's Bridge and Spring Bank. Craig was left in Wilmington. Cornwallis came up to Cox's Ferry on the Neuse and burned the house of Longfield Cox, also that of Genl. William Bryan, and other houses at Fort Barnwell. They stole Col. Nathan Bryan's negroes and he had a narrow escape from capture. Genl. William Casswell and a few men undertook to stop them at Tuckahoe and Trent, but were put to flight. Genl. Casswell, Jessie Cobb, Col. John Heritage and James Glascow fled to the mountains. Such was the consternation of the Whigs, they embedded themselves at Greenfield, opposite White Hall. Greenfield was the residence of Col. Joseph Green who married Sarah (daughter of William and Rachel Bryan Whitfield. Craig came up to Cox's Ferry in 1782. William Whitfield was Commissary in the State Regiment; Bryan Whitfield was Captain in his brother Needham's Regiment; Blake Bryan was Ensign in the same Co. Col. John Heritage was Commander. William Whitfield the 2nd was a member of Gov. Casswell's Council 1779, appointed by the Council held in Newberne 1775, J. P. for Johnston County, member from Dobbs to the Assembly held in Wilmington 1761 and 1762. (Colonial Records.)

William Whitfield was originally a member of the Church of England, but became a Methodist, his son Lewis joined the Baptists in 1789 and became a Minister, his father was himself baptized, by Francis Oliver, at the Monthly Meeting at Pleasant Plains, William and Needham Whitfield also joined the Baptist Church.

ORDERS OF NOBILITY IN CAROLINA

(The following article from the pens of Messrs. Waddy Thompson and Joseph McLean first appeared in the Atlanta Constitution, and is reproduced at the request of a subscriber in Atlanta, Ga.)

"There were three orders of Nobility created in the Colony of Carolina by the Lords Proprietors. It should be noted however, that the Palatine was not an order of Nobility. It was a single executive office, the supreme head of the government and higher than the nobility. It was held by the eldest of the Lords Proprietors and upon his decease the eldest of the surviving Proprietors succeeded him. In the list here given the palatines are named in the order of their succession. The nobility was composed of, first, the landgraves and, second, the caciques. The charter granted by the crown to the Proprietors authorized the establishment of a nobility in the province or colony, but required that those composing it should be selected only from the inhabitants of the colony. The famous "Fundamental Constitution" of the colony, written by the philosopher Locke, provided for this nobility in article ix, as follows: "There shall be just as many landgraves as there are counties, and twice as many caciques and no more. These shall be the hereditary nobility of the province," etc. The requirement that the nobility be selected only from the inhabitants of the colony was not always observed, for some of those selected were residents of England or of other colonies.

By the Editor of the Register.

The first reference we find relating to the settlement of that part of Carolina now known as South Carolina, is the agreement made between the Lords Proprietors (under the charter of 1663 and Maj. William Yeamans of Barbadoes for and on behalf of Sir John Yeamans, Barro, his father; Col. Edmund Reade; Symon Lambert and eighty one others adventurers for the settlement of Carolina," in which agreement, "Major Wm. Yeamans is imployed to the said Lords Proprietors by the persons above mentioned and by them declared under theire hands to be their Agent and Representative and that they have given full power to treates, propose and conclude with the said Lords about all matters relating to that which they have already done as alsoe to what may be necessary and convenient to be done, &c., * * * * and abide by whatsoever the said Wm. Yeamans shall conclude of and agree upon in relation to the settlement of Carolina or any parte thereof, &c." This document is without date, but towards its close on page 89 we find, "13 Item, to every freeman and freewoman armed and provided as aforesd yt shall goe and arrive wth intencon to plant wthin ye third yeare from January one thousand six hundred sixty-six to January one thousand six hundred sixty-seven,"hence we reasonably conclude the agreement was made in 1664--5. (Col. Rec. of N. C., page 75 to 92 of Vol. I).

On page 93 of the same volume we read "Jan'y 7th, 1664--5. It is agreed by the Lords Proprietors, of Carolina that although the County of Clarendon near Cape Faire, and all the tract of ground as farr to the southward of the river St. Mathias and west as far as the south seas, befor the present, under the Government of Sir John Yeamans, yet notwithstanding it is ment and intended, that that parte of it which is about to be settled to the southward and west ward of Cape Romania be a distinckt Government from the County of Clarendon, and that there be a distinckt deputy Governor for the present, and that it be called the County of Craven and as soone as it shall be conveniently settled by the said Sir John Yeamans or any other that there be a distinckt Governor commissioned to govern there."

On the same page and page 94 we find "Sir John Yeamans, Sir: Having recived a good carrector of your abillityes and Integryty and of your loyalty to the Kinge from Sir John Colleton with an assurance that you will viggorously attempt the settling of a colony or plantation to the south of Cape Romania, &c. * * * * Wee have prevailed with his Majestie to confer the honor of a Knight Barronet upon you and your heires, to whom we have given assurance that you will deserve the same. In the next plaec we have by our commissions which goes by your sonn, made you our Lieutenant General and Governor of that parte of our Province of Carolina, which we conceive may most conduce to the settlement aforesaid * * * *and alsoe as you take it * up or cause it to be taken up and bounded within 3 years after the date hereof, you paying one-half penny per acre English measure yearly, the first payment to begin 25th day of March which shall be in the yeare of our Lord 1670 according to the English account. Cockpit this 11th Jan'y, 1664." We are of the opinion that this should be 1664--5.

In 1663. A commission was issued by the Lords Proprietors (under 1st charter Charles II) to Sir William Berkeley to constitute and commissionate a Governor of Albemarle River "for all that of the province aforesaid, which lyeth on the North East side or Star board side entring of the river of Chowan, now named by us Albemarle river together with the Islands and Isletts within ten leagues therof, for the term of —— years from the date of his commission, which he shall receive from the said William Berkeley * * * to be Governor on the South west or Starboard side entering the same river and from the entrance thereof 20 leagues up the river and from the river side — myles southerly into the land for the term and time of —years from the date of the Commission he shall receive from Sir William Berkeley, dated this — day of ——, 1663. (Col. Rec. of N. C., Vol. 1, pages 48 and 49. Uuder this power Gov. Berkeley, appointed William Drummond Governor of that part of Carolina north of Albemarle Sound, in 1663.

Again, Vol. 1, page 93, same work (taken from B. P. R. O.: Ent: Book No. 20, p. 22) a letter appears addressed to Gov. Drummond as follows: "Sir, Our last unto you was by Mr. Peter Carteret, accompanying your Commission and Instructions for the Government of the County of Albemarle, in which we confined the County to 40 myles square or 40 square miles, in which there was a mistake for it should have been 1600 square miles instead of 40, of which you are to take notice and to bound the country accordingly, &c. Cockpit Jan'y 7th, 1664--5."

William Drummond continued as Governor until 1667, when he removed to Virginia, being succeeded by William Stephens, who retained the office until his death in 1669. Gov. Stephen's widow married Gov. William Berkeley early in 1670. Some doubt has arisen as to the successor of Gov. Stephens, but a minute docket of a called court held for Albemarle County at ye house of Samuel Davis in ye province of Carolina, July 15th, 1670, among the officers present Hon. Peter Carteret "Governor and Commander in Chief" is mentioned. (See N. C. Historical and Genealogical Register, Vol. I, No. 1, p. 135. An exact copy of this paper found among the records in the Court House at Edenton is given on page 135 as indicated.

From the above excerpts, it is evident that the Commission of William Drummond as Governor antedated that of Sir John Yeamans, and he (not Sir John Yeamans) was the first Governor of Carolina.

THE LORDS PROPRIETORS IN AMERICA,--PRINCELY HOLDINGS AND REGAL RIGHTS.

(By Mrs. Leila Austell Thornton of Atlanta, Ga.)

An interesting chapter of American history is the story of the Lords Proprietors—those English noblemen who received from their sovereigns grants of princely domains with regal rights, the king retaining only a feudal tenure over them. Such grants were given in Newfoundland, Maine, Long Island, (New Albion), Maryland and Carolina. Though the northern provinces were short lived, the provincial charter of Maryland "containing the fullest and most ample rights and privileges ever confered by an English sovereign," was never revoked, though it was often attacked and at times held in abeyance. The Palatine principality, established in Carolina in 1663, lasted sixty-five years, during which time the Proprietors were absolute lords of land and water within their boundaries; could declare war, levy taxes, establish courts of justice and otherwise exercise kingly rights. In each province, however, all colonists and their children were to remain English subiects.

These Lords Proprietors are not to be confounded with Raleigh, William Penn and others who came with royal charters to establish colonies for the crown—with governors appointed by the crown. To the Proprietors Charles deeded his princely gift "with all the rights, jurisdictions, royalties and liberties within the bounds of their province, to hold, use and enjoy the same in as ample a manner as the bishop of Durham did in that County Palatine in England."

Let us see in what manner Bishop Durham enjoyed his patent. A glance at Europaen history will show that the Counts Palatine were established under the early German emperors immdiately after the death of Charlmagne. The office was created in the sovereign's interest, and the Palatines were his coadjutors, frquently holding sole jurisdiction themselves. They played an important role in the history of mediaeval Europe, and when William, the conqueror, stripped the British Earls of their official character an exception was made in those governments which in the next century were called Palatinates. There were Chester, perhaps Shropshire and the bishopric of Durham. In Hallam's Constitutional History of England we read: "The franchise of a county Palatine gave a right of exclusive civil and criminal jurisdiction, so that the king's visit should not run nor his judges come within it, though judgment in its courts might be reversed by writ of error in the king's bench the lord might enfeoffe tenants to hold by knights' services of himself; he had almost regalian rights; the land of those attainted of treason escheated to him; he acted in everything rather as one of the great feudatories of France or Germany than a subject of the English crown. Such was the Earl of Chester." Such also was the bishop of Durham, who only surenderd his Palatine rights to the crown of England in 1836. Such were the rights and privileges conferred on the American Lords Proprietors of whose rule a short history follows:

In 1634 Charles I granted to Sir Edmund Plowden and eight other petitioners, the whole of Long Island, and forty square miles of the adjoining continent, including the present states of Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland, to be known as the county Palatine, of New Albion. Within the year Plowden had bought the claims of his associates for himself and his three sons. He spent his life in trying to enforce his claims against the Swedes and the Dutch. His authority was an empty bubble that finally burst, though his descendants claimed the title of Earl Palatine until the close of the eighteenth century.

In 1639 a Palatine principality was established in Maine by a royal charter to Sir Ferdinands Georges. It lasted just ten years, under the rule of Thomas Georges, son of the proprietor. The fierce struggle with the severe climate and the inhospitable Indians had resulted in the establishment of so small a colony that Georges abandoned his scheme.

In 1610 George Calvert, Lord Baltimore, then secretary of state, received a royal grant for the province of Newfoundland, expecting to establish there a refuge for Catholics, who were sufferers from the intolerant spirit of the times. He called his Newfoundland Province Avalon, and established a colony on the eastern coast forty miles north of Cape Race. Here he built a noble mansion, where he resided with his family many years. After spending £30,000 he abandoned the idea of planting his colony on account of climate, soil and attacks from the French. Returning to England, he received in 1632 the magnificent grant of the Province of Maryland, which as I have already stated, "contained the most ample rights and privileges ever granted by an English sovereign." The noble lord died before the charter was delivered, but his worthy son, Cecil Calvert, received the patent and carried out his father's plans. This charter was never revoked, so the history of Baltimore's provincial government is the history of Maryland from 1632 to the revolution.

We come now to the rule of the Lords Proprietors in the Province of Carolina. Wheeler tells us "On the 24th of March, 1663, King Charles II granted to Edward, earl of Clarendon; George (monk) duke of Albemarle; William, earl of Craven; John, Lord Berkeley; Anthony, Lord Asheley (earl of Shaftesbury); Sir John Carteret; Sir John Colleton, and Sir William Berkeley all the country between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, between the 31 and 36 degree parallels of latitude, called Carolina, in honor of Charles." The grant embraced the present states of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. The line fell short of the southern boundary of Virginia by 1 degree, but a 2nd patent was secured in 1665 including this valuable strip. This patent granted such large powers that "no one prerogative of the crown was preserved except only the sovereign dominion." Under the charter for sixty-six years the rule of the Proprietors was exercised in the province.

The eight persons mentioned in the charter were the original Proprietors, but in several cases they transferred their vested rights. We know that Locke, author of the "Essay on the Human Understanding," who was secretary of the Earl of Shaftesbury at the founding of the province, was afterwards one of the Proprietors (Simm's History of South Carolina). Ashby's grant was afterwards held by Sir John Tyrrell, according to both Wheeler and Williamson. This same share was signed for by John Cotton in the deed of transfer to the crown in 1728. The names that appear in this deed, also in the recital in the deed to Earl Granville, of the Lords who sold to the crown (Volume II Revised Statutes of North Carolina, pages 19 and 20), also in the act of parliament accepting the surrender (Second Revised Statutes, pages 468 and 469), are Henry, duke of Beaufort; William Lord Craven, James Bertie, Doddington, Greville, Henry Bertie, Mary Dawson, Elizabeth Moore, Sir John Colleton, Archibald Hutchinson, John Cotton, Joseph Blake, John, (Lord Carteret, who did not sell).

Sir William Berkeley, being governor of Virginia at the time the provincial charter was issued to him and his associates, visited the province at once and appointed William Drummond governor. Drummond served four years and at his *death was succeeded by Stephens. The first legislative assembly met in the fall of 1669. The colonists had already "instituted a simple form of government for themselves, composed of a council of twelve, and an assembly composed of a governor, the council and twelve delegates from the freeholders in the settlements." Then sturdy settlers opposed the feudal assumptions of the lords. But the proprietors, agreeable to their powers, proceeded to frame a system of laws for the province and called upon John Locke, the English philosopher, to draw up the code. He produced his fundamental constitutions of Carolina, in which a form of government, elaborate in design and labored in detail, was outlined. It contained a theory of feudal aristocracy, the most striking feature being the creation of orders of nobility to be known as landgraves, caciques and barons. These were to be graded according to the value of the landed estates they held. The people were to be serfs and the tenants were to be transferred with the soil. The "grand model," as it was called, was wholly impracticable; it was the off-spring of a philosopher and a theorist, but wholly unsuited to the needs of the colonists settled in a vast wilderness, with equal dangers to confront and where equal rights should have been recognized. Locke's constitution was accepted by the Proprietors July 21, 1669, and they proceeded to organize the government with Monk as Palatine. In 1693, after twenty-four years of the rule of this constitution it was revoked by the Lords, but the government went on as before, each of the Proprietors having at this time two delegates in the province, one for the northern and one for the southern districts. The palatine, or senior Lord, sent his representative as governor of the province and he presided over the assembly.

In 1665 an important colony was established in old Clarendon county by Sir John Yeamans, who brought with his colonists from Barbadoes a number of negro slaves. In 1670 Port Royal was founded and in 1671 old Charleston was laid out on the banks of the Ashley. In 1680 the town was moved to the confluence of the Ashley and Cooper rivers, the present site of Charleston. From these settlements, referred to by the proprietors as "our colony northeast of Cape Fear, and our colony southwest of Cape Fear" the northern and southern divisions of Carolina commenced. The name North Carolina first appears in 1691. Efforts were made to unite these settlements under one governor, but they always retained separate deputy governors and separate assemblies.

The population of Carolina was not encouraged under this government to put forth its best efforts, and the people were glad when the crown purchased the rights of the lords proprietors in 1728, and they became colonies of the English crown. Then began the colonial period. The Palatinate of the Lord's Proprietors had ceased to be."

As the editor resides within the territory mentioned in the above article, he has devoted some little time in ascertaining the distances and boundaries as regulated by the charters of 1663 and 1665.

Addenda by the Editor of the Register.

The first charter was granted by Charles I to Sir Robert Heath and bore date Oct. 30th, 1629, and included all territory "betwixt one and thirty and thirty six degrees of northern latitude inclusively placed. He being about to lead thither a colony of men large and plentiful," &c. (Col. Rec. of N. C., Vol. 1, p. 5 and 6.

The second charter from King Charles II to the lords proprietors, bears date March 24th, 1663, and included "All that territory or tract of ground situate lying and being within our dominions of America, extending from the North end of the Island called Lucke Island, which lieth in the Southern Virginia Seas and within six and thirty degrees of the Northern latitude, and to the West as far as the South Seas and so southerly, as far as the river St. Mathias, which bordereth upon the coast of Florida, and within one and thirty degrees of Northern latitude, and so west in a direct line as far as the South Seas aforesaid," &c. (Col. Rec. of N. C., Vol. 1, p. 20 and 21.

Between the issuing of this charter and its enlargement in 1665, there was a strip of territory about one-half of one degree in width just north of the 36th degree of North latitude, over which Gov. Wm. Drummond presided as Governor. A number of the earliest grants of lands were issued by Gov. Berkeley in 1663, which are recorded in the Land office at Richmond, Va., hence the failure to find them of record in the State House in Raleigh, N. C. These grants were issued for land lying in the precincts of Carteret, Berkeley and Shaftesbury, corresponding to the counties of to-day as follows: Currituck, Camden, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Chowan and Gates.

The third charter enlarging the second, was issued by King Charles II to the Lords Proprietors "the 30th day of June in the 17th year of His Reign A. D., 1665, and reads as follows: "All that territory or tract of land situate, lving and being within our dominions of America aforesaid: extending north and eastward as far as the north end of Currituck river or inlet, upon a strait westerly line to Wyanoak Creek, which lies within or about the degrees of thirty six and thirty minutes northern latitude; and so west, in a direct line as far as the South seas; and south and westward as far as the degrees of twenty-nine inclusive of northern latitude, and so west in a direct line as far as the South seas together with all," &c. (Col. Rec., Vol. 1, pp. 101 and 102).

The line had probably never been surveyed and the exact latitude of Wyanoak Creek could not be definitely stated hence the word about was used so that the exact latitude of Wyanoak Creek was to be adjudged as the number of degrees, minutes, &c.

A survey was made in 1728 and 9, jointly by the Provinces of Virginia and North Carolina to establish the line between the two Provinces, and the facetious Col. William Byrd one of the Commissioners on the part of Virginia, has written a work entitled "The History of the Dividing Line," from which we gather in detail the work as it advanced from day to day, together with many interesting and valuable items of history, relating to the topography of the country along the line and the character and habits of the people, who had settled contiguous to the boundary line, the latitude at Currituck Inlet appears then to have been 36 degrees, 31 minutes, 13 seconds north latitude. Another survey was made by the State of Virginia and North Carolina, commenced in 1886, and completed in 1887. Hon. W. D. Pruden of Edenton, being the Commissioner on the part of North Carolina with Harry T. Greenleaf, Esq., of Elizabeth City, N. C., as engineer and Major Conway R. Howard, Commissioner and engineer on the part of Virginia, the surveying party were accompanied by Messrs. C. H. Sinclair and John Nelson (assistant) of the U. S. Geodetic Survey, this survey fixed the latitude at the point of beginning on the Atlantic Ocean, (to-wit, the North end of Currituck Inlet at low water mark) at 36 degrees, 32 minutes, and 59 seconds, north latitude, and that of Wyanoak or Nottaway as 36 degrees, 32 minutes and 05 seconds, taking the mean between the two extremes of the line, the average would be 36 degrees, 32 minutes, and 31 seconds, making the strip of territory mentioned exactly 37.665 miles in width. Edenton is in latitude 36 degrees, 03 minutes, 30 seconds, north, which places the 36th degree of north latitude about four and one-quarter miles south of the town, or about the middle of Albemarle Sound, and leaves the distance to the boundary line between Virginia and North Carolina about thirty three and one-half miles north of Edenton.

THE OLD CANNON IN EDENTON.

Everything has a history, and to our surprise we have recently found the history of the old guns that have been moved about the town for the past century or more, four of them have been placed on the Town Wharf as posts, two are on the Woodard wharf serving the same purpose, another is at the corner of Broad and K Streets as a corner post, yet another has been placed at the corner of Queen and Granvelle Streets, while the last one of which we have any knowledge lies just behind the old Ice House on Blount Street, When a boy the writer heard the tradition that these old guns were brought to Edenton in a vessel called the "Holy Heart of Jesus," that the vessel was wrecked and carried to the Old Vessel graveyard just beyond John's Island on Mattacomack Creek, the following account shows how nearly correct was the tradition.

In a letter from Thomas Benbury and Robert Smith to Gov. Richard Casswell dated Edenton 19th Nov., 1778, we find the following statement.

"Capt. *Berritz of the Ship named the Heart of Jesus, arrived

* Wm. Boritz appears on the records of Chowan County for the first time in 1780, and no person bearing that name appears prior thereto. He purchased real estate in Edenton, married, lived and died here in 1796—leaving a will bearing date July 12, 1796, in which he leaves all of his property to his sons James and John Boritz, and appoints Samuel Tredwell and his nephew John Boritz as his executors, we are almost sure that he was the same Wm. Boritz spoken of in this letter, which goes to confirm the old tradition that the vessel was wrecked here sometime in the month of July last. On his arrival he wrote a certain Mr. Holtner, he says, indeed we know he did. He likewise wrote to Congress what he should do with the Cannon he had on board say twenty-eight, 24 pounders, to which he never received any answer; but about a month ago, a Gentleman from Virginia produced an order for one half, or twenty-two of the Cannon, for that State, and at the same time exhibited an Extract of a Resolve of Congress by which it appears the contract for the Cannon, had been applied for by the delegates of the two States, Carolina and Virginia and was granted (no great boon). The State of Virginia are to have 22 of the Cannon and our State twenty-three. The Contract made by the Agents in France is to pay 150 lbs Tobacco for every 100 lbs of Iron Cannon, for the credit of the State. We have thought it our duty to receive the Cannon. The Captain proceeds with the other two and twenty that is ordered to South Quay, where the Tobacco is ready for him for the Virginia half, or share. We wish to know, if we have acted right, in what we have done (we have told your Excellency our motives), what should be done with the Cannon, and to know what way the Captain can be paid the Tobacco. His time has been some time out, and he will lay after his return from South Quay at the demurage, we believe, of 50 pounds per day," &c. (State Records of N. C. by Clark, Vol. XIII, pages 291 & 292.)

Order from Gov. R. Caswell to Robert Smith, Esq. "Kingston, 3d December, 1778. Sir: Please to deliver Capt. Willis Wilson eight 18 pounders for the use of Fort Hancock, and if there are among the guns purchased for the State, and received by you and Mr. Benbury any which will suit his ship, please also to deliver them.

I have not yet been favored with the account of the weight of the Guns, or any of your favors, since the return of your Express, respecting the Cannon.

I am Sir, your Most Obedient Servant,
R. CASWELL.

The ship referred to was the Caswell Capt John Easton. She was ordered to proceed immediately to Ocracoke. "You are to receive from Mr. Robert Smith eight 18 pounders lately imported there from France and received by Messrs. Smith and Benbury for the use of this State. If there are any other Guns in Mr. Smith's possession, that will be useful in your ship, apply to him and he will deliver them," &c. (State Records of N. C. by Clark, Vol. XIII, pages 311 & 312).

Letter from Thomas Benbury and Robert Smith to Gov. Caswell dated Edenton, 10th Decr., 1778. "Sir: We received yours of the 24th of Novr., the reason of your not hearing from us before is explained in Mr. Smith's letter. Captain Barrett's proceeding to South Quay with his vessel left us no invoice of the Cannon left here. We have examined the Cannon, but from the Swedish Marks, we cannot determine the quantity of Tobacco the State will have to pay, but as near as we can guess we have to pay from One hundred and sixty thousand weight of Tobacco," &c. (Same Volume page 324.)

From Robt. Smith to Gov. Caswell. Edenton, 10th Decr., 1778. "Sir, I am sorry to inform you that the Brig "General Gates, Captain Cunningham, in the Latitude of Bermuda, had the misfortune to be overset and totally lost, &c. I had to send for Mr. Benbury when your Express arrived, &c. I was confiend for ten days to my room with an obstinate fever, part of which time it was a matter in doubt with me whether at this time of day, I should be writing letters here or singing hallelujahs in Heaven. This will account for your not hearing from me before now," &c. (Same Volume, page 325.)

Letter from Robt. Smith to Gov. Caswell. "Edenton, 11th Decr., 1778. "Sir." "I joined Mr. Benbury in a letter to your Excellency yesterday. We could not exactly ascertain the weight of the Cannon but guessed them to be about 10,000, which at 1 1-2 lbs would make 150,000 of Tobacco. There is about 60 @ 70 Hhds of Tobacco belonging to the Continent in store here, perhaps you might buy or borrow it from Congress. We could buy some Tobacco in Virginia which Barrets might take in where he is, but the *Virginians will not take our money. Capt. Wilson is now in Virginia; he shall have Cannon when he applies. There are nine 24 and fourteen 18 pounders." (Same Volume, page 326.)

During the recent misunderstanding between the States North and South, immediately on the fall of Roanoke Island, Edenton was visited by Federal Troops; they found two of these old guns mounted on gun carriages, which they destroyed, breaking off the trunions on the two Cannon as well as the rest not mounted, remarking that they would not take them away, "as they were more dangerous to those who stood behind them, than to those who marched in front."

With the history attaching to them, they become valuable as relics, and the Authorities of the Town should use proper care to preserve and retain them.

The General Society Daughters of the Revolution was organized in New York City, August 20th, 1891, and incorporated the September folowing, under the laws of the State of New York, "as a Society National in its purposes and character" its charter embracing all the State Societies which might thereafter be formed under the original organization. It is strictly lineal. The North Carolina Society Daughters of the Revolution was organized in Raleigh, October 19th, 1896, the anniversary of the surrender of Cornwallis. Being a component part of the General Society it is, of course, governed by the same rules, embodying in its ranks only lineal descendants of Revolutionary patriots, and actuated by the same motives, and aims, as the national organization. Among its avowed objects are the perpetuation of the patriotic spirit of the men and women who achieved American Independence, the commemoration of Revolutionary events, especially those enacted in North Carolina, or by North Carolinians, and the encouragement of historical research.

In pursuance of these objects, this Society has selected as its present work the rearing of a worthy memorial to the ladies of the "Historic Edenton Tea-Party, of October 25th, 1774," as a most fitting tribute from a woman's patriotic society to the fervid patriotism of these women of North Carolina, whose declaration of Independence, on the occasion above referred to, preceded, by nearly twenty-one months, the National Declaration at Philadelphia, and whose temerity had the isue of the war been different, might have cost them their lives.

With a view to beginning a fund for this purpose, the Society proposes, through an appointed committee, to issue for a year, under the title of "The North Carolina Booklet Co" a series of mo[illegible], one each month, on prominent events of North Carolina history, beginning with the Colonial period, and continuing through the Revolution, the War of 1812, &c., down to the present time. Should the plan meet with favor, and prove a pecuniary success, other publications of similar interest and import will follow.

In this effort the Society earnestly solicits the co-operation and patronage af patriotic people of North Carolina and other States.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, EDENTON, N. C.

The intention of this article is to bring out the date, when the erection of the Church was commenced, the progress of the work, and the time of its completion, together with such items of interest, as may be connected with its history during the period indicated.

With possibly the exception of the Church at Bath, this venerable and venerated edifice consecrated for the Worship of Almighty God, with its ivy covered walls and tower, is the oldest Church now in existence in North Carolina. It was founded and completed by the successors of the Vestry, who in 1701 and 1702 founded and built the first Church in the Colony of North Carolina at Hayes within a short distance of Edenton, (a full account of which appears in No. 2 of the Register). All the original members of the Vestry had passed to their reward, we hope, in another and higher life, before the building of St. Paul's Church, Edenton, had been enterprised. Col. Edward Moseley appears as a vestryman in 1708, but he had removed to New Hanover County, where he died July 11th, 1749.

From the record evidence we shall introduce in this article, and from the absence of any to the contrary so far appearing, it will be apparent, that no Church edifice had existed in the Town of Edenton, until the completion of St. Paul's, which was probably used for the first time for any religious purpose in 1760. Frequent references appear to the use of the Court House for Divine Services, and on one or more occasions it is stated that it was used for the "want of a consecrated place."

No deed is of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Chowan County for the lots upon which the Church stands, nor are they numbered on the plat of the Town, indicating that the authorities in the early settlement of Edenton, allotted and set apart these lots for a Church and burial place, as were the lots for the Court House and other public buildings, this conclusion is confirmed by An Act passed by the Assembly held at Edenton, Aug't 21st, 1740, which recites "that 420 acres of land lying in the Fork of Queen Ann's Creek, in Chowan County, was purchased by the Public and hath been laid out for a Town, called Edenton and Part thereof divided into lots of half acres, with convenient streets, passages, place for a Church, Governor's House, Court House, burying place, market place and Council Room and other purposes and by the said Acts were vested, in fee, in Commissioners or Trustees," &c. (Compilation of Laws by James Davis, 1752, page 103).

From a paper, which seems to be an account rendered by some one not named therein, for "Money disbursed on acco't of the Church." we find these items: "May 10, 1736. To money for clearing lots 12£. Aug't 6th, 1736. To paid for 215 Bushels of Shells @1s. 6d. 18£. 7s. 6d. Same date paid in part of Bricks 100£. Sept. 22nd, do., 100£. Jan'y 4 do. to Mr. Bonnor 36£. In 1737 the following items appear: Paid for 3874 bushels Shells, ½ Ton Iron 95£, (to make nails), for scaffolding rope 4£ 16.s, for Hydes for the scaffolding 9£, a hogshead to fetch water 1£, the Bricklayer 561£ 3½ Days labor 2 negroes each 3£ 10.s, To money pd. for the Gabbd work on the East end window 20£. The total expenditures amounting to 1240£, 17.s. 4d." It is evident from the above items that the work of buliding was commenced with the clearing off the Lotts May 10, 1736, and continued to Dec. 5th, 1737 when there were 561£ charged as paid the Bricklayer. The date fixed by these items, is earlier than that mentioned in the records of St. Paul's Parish and may be easily accounted for by the fact that the money expended prior to Dec. 5th, 1737, had been provided for by voluntary contributions made by private individuals, with the exception of 195£ received from the Parish. The records of the Parish commences when the tax or levy was made by them upon the Tythables of the Parish, for the completion of the building, in the first instance the fund was controlled by Commissioners selected by the contributors to the fund, in the latter being money collected by law from the people of the Parish, it was taken in hand and disbursed by legal authority.

"On April 26th, 1736. Being Easter Monday, The Vestry and Parishners having met proceeded to chuse a new Vestry agreeable to Law and by pole chose William Smith, Esq., John Montgomery, Esq., Robert Forster, Esq., J. Hodgson, Esq., Henry Bonner, Thos. Luten, Edmund Gale, Abraham Blackall, Joseph Anderson, Henry Baker, John Sumner, Sam'l Padgett. Duly qualified themselves vestrymen by taking the oaths By Law directed, and chosed Abra'm Blackall & Henry Bonner Church Wardens for the ensuing year, then the vestry by plurality of vote chose Henry Bonner, Jr., Clerk of the Vestry who was duly qualified by taking the public oaths by law directed. Ordered that a Vestry be held this day fortnight, &c. Abraham Blackall, Warden." (Rec. St. Paul's Parish, Vol. I, page 75.)

"Att a vestry held for the No. East Parish, of Chowan Precinct at Edenton the 10th May, 1736, The Honble William Smith, John Montgomery, John Hodgson, Esq., Joseph Anderson, Edmund Gale, Henry Bonner, Thos. Luten, Robert Forster (Present we presume but the record does not so state) . Ordered that to contribute towards defraying the expenses of building a Church at Edenton, for the support of the poor and other contingent Charges of the Parish a tax or levy of Twenty Shillings p pole be levied on each Tythable in the Precinct for the Ensuing year." At a meeting of the vestry held for the No. East Parish of Chowan ye 27th April, 1737.

"Ordered that Towards defraying the Expenses of a Church at Edenton, repairing the Indian Town Chappell & other Conting't charges of the Parish a Tax or Levy of ten shillings pr pole be levyed on each Tythable of the Parish for the ensuing year." (Idem, page 83.

Vestry held for the Parish of Chowan at the Indian Town Chaupel the 1st of July 1738. "All present but John Sumner, Charles King and John Blount. Mr. Edmund Gale being by an order of a former Vestry appointed a Committee to receive and call in Severall Sums of Money that was due towards Building a Church at Edenton & by the same order the same Committee is obleedged to acoumpt with the C. Wardens, call upon the sd Committee to render to him or them an accot of all sums of money Rec'd by him and how he hath apply'd ye same."

"Ordered that all the moneys that is properly Parish moneys after the Just debts that is now dew is payd except ye Levy for the present year, be payd into the hands of Thos. Luten to be by him applyd towards completing a Church now begun at Edenton he giving security to ye Church Wardens in the behalf of ye Parish to render to the Vestry an acct thereof when Required." (Idem, page 87.)

"Easter Monday, April 7th, 1740.

The Freemen of Chowan County Did meet at the Court House and choose Benjamin Talbot, as Clark for taking the pole for Vestrymen, and their and then did elect and chuse for Vestrymen the following persons to-wit, vizt.: John Blount, John Sumner, Demsey Sumner, Richard Parker, Thomas Walton, John Benbury, Jacob Butler, William Skinner, Isaac Hunter, Wiliam Speight, Edw'd Hare, Richard Bond, all met except Richard Bond at the Court House in Edenton & qualified by taking the public Oaths. Mr. Jacob Butler & Demsey Sumner elected Church Wardens for the ensuing year." (Idem, page ——.)

At a General Assembly held at Edenton the 21st day of August, 1740, An act was passed to enable the Commissioners hereinafter mentioned, to finish the Church already begun at Edenton, from that act we extract as follows: "Whereas, several well disposed persons have voluntarily subscribed and contributed several sums of money, to build and erect a Church in Edenton for the Advancement of Religion, and thereby appointed several Commissioners to manage and carry on the same and to apply such charitable Subscriptions and Contributions to the Purpose, which said Commissioners have carried on and in part built the same; but some of the Commissioners being dead and there not being a sufficient sum raised to compleat the said Work, and the Vestry of the Parish refusing to assist therein, the said Building may become ruinous and all the money already expended will thereby be lost, to the great discouragement of religion, and of such good and pious intentions, therefore to prevent the same, and to promote so laudable a work, and in order to raise a sufficient Fund for finishing the said Church. Be it Enacted by his Excellency Gabriel Johnston Governor, by and with the advice & Consent of his Majesty'ss Council and the General Assembly, &c.

That a Tax of Two Shillings Proclamation Money, for two years, next ensuing be laid on each and every Tithable Person within the sand Parish, or County of Chowan, to defray the expence and charge of Compleating and finishing the said Church; to be paid yearly, in such Commodities as hereafter rated &c. That when the said Church shall be fit to celebrate Divine Service in all meetings of Vestries for the said Parish being first duly summoned, shall be held at the said Church, and at no other Place in the said Parish under the Penalty of Ten Shillings, Proclamation Money, besides costs for each and every Vestryman so refusing or neglecting; to be levied by Warrant, &c. (Compendium of Laws by James Davis 1752, 1752, pages 111 & 113).

"At a vestry held at Edenton, Feb'y 25th, 1744. Present Mr. Wm. Hoskins, Mr. John Benbury, Mr. William Walton, Mr. Isaac Hunter & Mr. Jno. Wilkins Church Wardens. Ordered that the Reverend Clement Hall be allowed sixty pounds Proclamation Money per annum for officiating two Sundays in three at Edenton and the next Sunday at one of the Chappells above & to Preach every Monday at Thomas Waltons, Junr., ot Katharine Creek that he preaches at the Knotty Pine Chapel on the Sunday.

Ordered that Mr. John Wilkins and Wm. Hoskins be impowered to agree with any Person for a Plantation and to employ any Person or Persons to repair the same if need require to be fit to receive Mr. Clement Hall to live on and charge the same to the Parish and likewise to hire Persons and Craft or Vessels to remove the Goods & Chattels of the said Clement Hall to the place, he is to live in this Parish." (Rec. St. Paul's Parish, page 115.)

In a letter dated North Carolina, Perquimans, Feb'y 27th, 1744–5. written by Rev. Clement Hall to the Secretary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel *. "However, I have very lately agreed with the Vestry of Chowan Parish for 45£ Pr Annum & to settle near Edenton; & to officiate in the Court House there in Town, two Sundays (till the Church is built) & every third at 30 or 40 miles distance, the Parish being of vast extent and the Tythables about 1200 & few Dissenters or Sectaries among them tho' many are Perquimans & Pasquotank Counties &c." (Col. Records of N. C., Vol. IV, page 753.)

Again Rev. Mr. Hall writes to the Secretary "No. Carolina Chowan County, Edenton, June 19th, 1746.  . "Our Church at Edenton has ye roof raised but ye work is at a stand at present, because (as 'tis said) the Commissioners do not agree about." (Col. Rec. N. C., Vol. 14, page 794).

Another letter from Rev. Mr. Hall to the Sect'y dated North Carolina, Chowan County, Near Edenton, Augt. 23rd, 1746. We extract the following to-wit. "Our Church at Edenton is yet at a stand still for the reasons aforesaid tho some of the Commissioners say that the roof will shortly be covered. I have baptized by my accounts about 1235 White children & 29 white Adults, 13 Black children & 30 Black Adults. In all about 1307 persons, &c." (Col. Rec. of N. C., Vol. IV, page 794).

In the same Volume on page 872 is another letter from Rev. Mr. Hall to the Secretary dated North Carolina, Edenton, July 9th, 1748.

In February last I remov'd with my Family to another rented House about a Mile and a half from Town & between Easter & Whitsantide  . The Church is covered but not finished. Col. Rec. of N. C., Vol. IV, page 872.)

Another letter from the Rev. Mr. Hall to the Secretary dated Edenton, Sept. 11th, 1749, in which he writes   . Our Church at Edenton is yet unfinished, but one is lately built in Edgecombe Co. where Mr. Moir resides "Col. One other letter appears from Mr. Hall to the Secretary which is dated North Carolina, Edenton, Dec. 27th, 1749. We quote from it as follows: The State of our Church is as before, but Mr. Corben Earl Granville's Agent, says that he will do his true endeavors to have it finished, and there is another Chapel now building in the Parish, which will make 4 places of Publick Worship in the Compass of 60 or 70 miles. I have baptized 3945 white & 139 Black Children; 45 White and 92 Black Adults in all 4221 persons. (Col. Rec. of N. C., Vol. IV, page 925).

The Vestry met at the Court House in Edenton, May 3rd, 1749. (Rec. St. Paul's Parish, page 142).

"Ordered that all the surplusage of the afsaid Tax and all former Taxes, after the debts of the Parish are paid for which the same was laid be paid into the hands of the Church Wardens and Vestry to be by them applyd for ye Towards the finishing the said Church.

Ordered that a tax or levy be laid on every Taxable person within this Parish for this present year, for defraying the expense and for raising the sum of Sixty-six pounds, thirteen shillings and five pence like money to be applyd towards the Inclosing and Finishing the Church at Edenton, N. C.

Ordered that the Clerk of the Vestry do sett up advertisements at the Court House and at every Chapel within this Parish that whoever has a mind to undertake the said work to give their attendance at the next Vestry to be held at Edenton on the 1st Monday in June next, to agree with the C. Warden and Vestry for the same" &c. (Rec. St. Paul's Parish, page 145.)

At a Vestry held at the Court House in Edenton for the said Parish June 1st, 1750. Whereas notice was given at the last meeting for any person or persons to contract for the work, &c., but the Vestry finding it inconvenient, their setting being so short, have thought it necessary to drop the matter, therefore it is by the Church Wardens and Vestry Resolved, That Mr. Francis Corbine, Mr. James Craven & Mr. John Halsey be and they are hereby appointed & impowered to agree with such person or persons who are willing to undertake the said worke and to see the same finished," &c. (Idem, page 146.)

Vestry met at the Court House in Edenton July 23rd, 1752.

"Ordered that a levy of five shillings Proc. Money be laid on every tythable person within this Parish for defraying the expense and finishing the Church at Edenton, so far as such moneys will go for this present year,to be collected at the usual times and places of paying the Publick Taxes."

Ordered that the money appointed for the Finishing the Chapel be paid to the Order of the Commissioners appointed for Building and Finishing the same, and that the remaining part of the Taxes be for Finishing the Church and other necessary charges. (Idem, pages 152 & 153).

May 31st, 1753. Ordered that a levy of two Shillings Proclamation Money may be laid on each Taxable within this Parish to be applyed towards finishing the Church already begun at Edenton. (Idem, page 157).

Mr. William Hoskins in his account deducts 492£. "I am to account for with the Commissioners of the Church." (Idem, page 185).

In 1757, several deeds appear of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Chowan County from the Commissioners of Edenton to Peter Henly et als for lots in which this language occurs, "Whereas by an Act of the General Assembly of N. Carolina passed at Newberne at a session held on the 30th day of Sept., 1756, for establishing the titles of freeholders in Edenton and for laying a tax for finishing the Church begun in the sd Town, &c. (Book H. No. 1, pages 193, 194, 195, 196 & 197. (Register's Office Chowan County.)

Jan'y 20th, 1757. (The Vestry "Ordered, That the Rev. Mr. Clement Hall shall Take the Church Plate, Pewter & Linen at Edenton in his care, &c." "Ordered that Mr. Daniel Earl be appointed Reader at Edenton and that he be allowed Forty Shillings per annum for the same. Jesse Hunter Collector of the last years Taxes. (Idem, page 187).

It appears from the records that all the members of the Vestry elected in 1755, except John Luten and Henry Bonner, were members of the Congregations worshipping at the three Chapels in the upper part of Chowan County. John Luten did not qualify and Mr. John Gordon was appointed in his place, he lived in that part of Chowan now known as Gates County. Mr. Bonner qualified and attended the first meeting but his name does not appear afterwards among those who were present. From 1755 to Easter Monday 1767 there was not a single member of the Edenton Congregation elected as a Vestryman except John Luten & Henry Bonner as before stated. Nor does the name of any member of the Edenton Congregation appear in the records as being present at any vestry meeting during this period of time. Up to 1760, the most of the Vestry meetings were held at Constant's Chapel, this taken in connection with the order to Rev. Mr. Hall to take into his keeping the Church Plate, &c would seem to indicate there was some division in the Parish, but no mention appears in the Records of the existence of any dissensions.

"Rev. Daniel Earl allowed 100£ for preaching and officiating in the Parish the ensuing year at Edenton, on Sunday March 4th, at Constants on Sunday 11th, at Farlee's Chapel on Sunday 18th and at Knotty Pine the 25th March & so in the order thro the year." (Feb'y 24th, 1759.)

At a Vestry held at the Church in Edenton the 10th day of April, 1760, pursuant to a late Act of the Assembly. Present Maj. Demsey Sumner, Timothy Walton, Josiah Granberry, Richard Bond, Jacob Hunter, John Gordon, Luke Sumner, Jethro Benton, William Walton." (Rec. St. Paul's Parish, page ——).

If we will recall the act of the Assembly passed in 1740 requiring the Vestry to meet in the Church in Edenton as soon as it was ready for Divine Worship, under a penalty of 10 shillings & costs for each member refusing to comply with the act, and that this was the first meeting held by the Vestry in the Church, and so held pursuant to a late Act of the Assembly, we have the date fixed when the Church was ready and in condition to be used for Divine Service, and that date was about the time this meeting occurred, April 10th, 1760.

On April 27th, 1767. Sam'l Swift, Thomas Nash, John Benbury, Timothy Walton, Wm. Walton, Jacob Walton and Wm. Hinton met and took the Oath, Repeated and Subscribed the Test for Vestry men and on May 20th, 1776, Elisha Hunter, Richard Browrigg, Sam'l Johnston & James Sumner qualified. Sam'l Swift & Jacob Hunter were elected Church Wardens.

Ordered that Mr. Swift send to Philadelphia for a quantity of Glass to glaize the Church at Edenton. (Idem, page 236.)

In this Vestry appear Samuel Swift, Thomas Nash, John Benbury and Sam'l Johnson of the Edenton Congregation as Vestrymen, it being the first time a representative from the Edenton Congregation had appeared in a Vestry Meeting since 1755, and this perhaps accounts for the entire absence of any reference being found in the records to the Church in process of construction in Edenton, during the period from 1755 to 1767.

May 9th, 1772. "Ordered that Mr. Hoskins be allowed £10 17 shilings & 3d for glass received from Lowther Hardy & Little for the Church." (Rec. St. Paul's Parish.)

April 12th, 1773. Ordered that Thomas Benbury, Church Warden, proceed to finish the inside of the Chapel in Edenton in a workmanlike manner. (Idem, page 265.)

May 18th, 1773. Thos. Hunter agrees to repair and finish all the wooden work of the inside of the Church and Doors in a good workmanlike manner, to the Satisfaction of the Vestry & find all the material for the same, for which he is to have 40£, the same to be completed in three months. (Idem, page 267.)

Augt. 28, 1773. Thomas Eggleston undertook the inside work of the Church to finish it in a decent manner by Christmas day for which he is to receiv £26 17s6d. (Idem, page 266.)

Thomas Eggleston died in November, 1773, and did not live to complete his contract and we find where the Vestry paid a short time thereafter Agnes Eggleston widow of said Thomas the sum of £10 which was probably for that portion of the work he had done up to the time of his death.

Augt. 24th, 1774. Ordered that Thomas Hunter be allowed 41£ for finishing the inside wooden work of the Church, he having done it to the satisfaction of the Vestry. (Idem, page 269).

From the above excepts of record evidence, we find that the work on building was commenced on the 10th day of May, 1736, and the Church had attained a degree of Completion, which permitted its use about April 10th, 1760, for Divine Service, but the inside woodwork was not finished until sometime in 1774. It is difficult to fully estimate in this age, the great difficulty and cost of erecting an edifice so substantial as this. At the time the work was done the cost cannot be approximated, but over $6,200, were spent prior to 1738, when we recall the nails cut about 70c. per pound, shells for lime 36 cents per bushel, that the lumber was sawed by hand, and the bricks probably imported, with ordinary labor at $2.50 per day, it would not be at all surprising should the amount expended in building St. Paul's Church [illegible] total of 25 or $30,000. Up to 1774, we have been unable to find any record fixing the date of its consecration, hence that event in its history will probably never be known.

By way of parenthesis we will add that Rev. Clement Hall purchased a tract of 346 acres of land about 2 1-2 miles from Edenton, where he lived and died in 1758, the property is now owned by Mr. F. A. White of Edenton, N. C.

The above statement taken from the records, clearly shows that the Church was commenced May 10th, 1736, and used for the first time about April 10th, 1760, the windows were not glazed until about 1771.

A lady in Washington, N. C., has kindly written us with reference to the Harvey history. John Harvey came to North Carolina as the Sect'y of Gov. John Jenkins. He settled on Albemarle Sound, known to-day as Harvey's Neck, in Perquimans Co., N. C. We find the following amongst the Perquiman's records, "John Harvey son of John Harvey and Mary his wife living at the Heath in Snitherfield Parish, Norwickshire, England and Joanah Jenkins relict of Hon'l John Jenkins were married by Hon'l Anthony Sloccomb April 13th, 1682." There was one son Thomas Harvey, but it could not have been Gov. Thomas Harvey a son of this marriage, for he died in 1699 If he was the son of Gov. John Harvey it was by a prior marriage. We are left in doubt as to the relationship between Gov. John Harvey and Gov. Thomas Harvey. The records have not been found to settle the matter. We made diligent search in Raleigh for the will of Gov. John Harvey but it is not there. Gov. Thomas Harvey mentions the fact in his will that he was his Executor, the strongest evidence we have of his being a son of Gov. John Harvey. Gov. The children of John and Mary Davis of Henrico Co., Va.: (1) Mary born Jan'y 21st, 1670, (2) Elizabeth born Feb'y 18th, 1679, (3) William B. (was the B. for Burton of Henrico County, Virginia, who died in 1867). The following record taken from the same Family Bible would indicate that Mary Davis md a second time ——— Glover. Thomas Glover born March 4th, 1685. Chas. Worth Glover born 23rd April, 1688. Joseph Glover born May 20, 1691. Were they the children of Gov. Wiliam Glover whose last wife was Katharine ———, and married Tobias Knight Private Secretary of Gov. Charles Eden? or were they his brothers and sisters? We have found only one child of Gov. William Glover in the North Carolina records. Her name was Elizabeth and Edward Moseley was her Guardian. Charles Worth Glover appears in the Indian War of 1711-12. The name Charles Worth appears among the different families who descended from John Blount and Elizabeth Davis, (daughter of John and Mary). There were Charles Worth Jacocks, Charles Worth Blounts, Charles Worth Harveys and Charles Worth Skinners. We would be glad to know of the Worth family from whom they evidently descended. The old Bible from which the above items were taken belonged to John Blount son of Charles Worth Blount, and became the property of Mrs. James Woodberry. John Blount and Elizabeth Davis were married in 1695. John Davis was probably the descendant of Margaret Blount and Thomas Davis of Bristol. England, who had sons John and Frances in 1635. William Blount (the brother of Margaret Blount Davis) was then in Barbadoes and afterwards settled in Massachusetts. (From Miss Helen M. Prescott, Atlanta, Ga.)

We are satisfied that Allen Blount's wife was either the daughter or sister of Richard Hines who represented Beaufort County in the Senate in 1819. William Hulme represented Wilkes Co., N. C., in the House of Commons of N. C., in the years 1800, 1801, 1802, 1803, 1804, 1805, 1806, 1807, 1808 & 1810 and in the Senate from Wilkes Co. N. C., in 1814, 1815 & 1816. (Editor) Please assist us with what information you may have.
